World Is in Doorway of Destruction, Council of Churches Is Told

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Columbus, Ohio, March 6 (AP)—President Truman appealed directly today for church support of his stalemated domestic legislative program against the opposition of interests he said were "greedy for gold."

He urged religious support also for the development of atomic energy under "a high moral code" to rescue a "sick" world "in the doorway to destruction."

"The development of atomic energy," the President told the church leaders, has left mankind "in the doorway to destruction—or upon the threshold of the greatest age in history," and added: "Only a high moral code can master this new power of the universe, and develop it for the common good."

Mr. Truman spoke at a special meeting of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America after his arrival from Fulton, Mo., where he introduced former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill for a foreign policy speech at Westminster College yesterday. He planned to fly back to Washington.

Calls on Forces of Decency
He called upon the forces of "decency and righteousness" to have full use of their war-won freedom to save a world beset by "threats of new conflicts, new terror and destruction."

"There is no problem on this earth tough enough to withstand the flame of a genuine renewal of religious faith," the President said, "and some of the problems of today will yield to nothing less than that kind of revival."

In Doorway of Destruction
"If the world is long to survive, the gigantic power which man has acquired through atomic energy must be matched by spiritual strength of greater magnitude. All mankind now stands in the doorway to destruction—or upon the threshold of the greatest age in history. Only a high moral code can master this new power of the universe and develop it for the common good."

Democrats Vote Down Moore Plan for State Aid to City

Majority Members of Council Kill J. Bruck's Resolution; Kingston Would Be Due for $913,025 as Against $413,629 Which City Received in Last Five Years

The Democratic majority in the Common Council Tuesday evening defeated a resolution offered by Alderman Joseph N. Bruck, Republican representative of the Eighth ward, requesting Governor Thomas E. Dewey to approve legislation to carry into effect the recommendations of the Moore commission, under the provisions of which the city of Kingston would receive an increase of $499,396 over the $413,629 the city has received in the past five years from the state.

During the past five years the city has been receiving state funds under the shared taxes and under the State Emergency Utility Tax, and the Bruck resolution set forth that the Legislature of the state through "The Commission on Municipal Revenues and Reductions of Real Estate Taxes," made a comprehensive study of the problems of state aid to municipalities to the end that not only such aid be placed on a more scientific basis but also increased. Legislation has just been enacted in the State Legislature to carry into effect the recommendations of this commission, commonly known as the Moore Commission, and "it has appeared in the newspapers that the Democratic majority of several cities met to oppose this plan for political purposes."

"According to figures released by the comptroller of the state," read the resolution, "the city of Kingston received in the last five years $413,629 from the state of New York under shared taxes and under the State Emergency Utility Tax, and will receive $913,025 on a per capita basis during the next five years, an increase of $499,396."

"The receipt of said revenues will contribute towards remedying the budgetary plight of the city now experiences and will provide for increased wages to city employees and expanding municipal services."

More Canning Sugar Promised This Year

Housewives may get a little more sugar for home canning this year than last season, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Washington.

The Office of Price Administration revealed this yesterday in announcing that spare stamp No. 9 will become valid next Monday for five pounds of sugar. It will be good through October 31.

The agency said it expects to validate another home-canning stamp in June or July. It added that the value of the second stamp cannot be fixed now, but was not likely to be good for any more than five pounds.

Restaurant Cook Charges Negro Hit Him With Chair

Neil Dougherty Is Treated in Kingston Hospital; James Fitzgerald Under Arrest

Neil Dougherty, 48, employed as a cook in the Broadway of Chap House at 19 Broadway was in the Kingston Hospital for treatment for a head injury, received at 11:50 o'clock Tuesday night when he was struck over the head with a chair, while James Fitzgerald, 20, of 81 Chambers street, a negro, is under arrest on a charge of third degree assault.

This morning in police court Judge Matthew N. Cahill adjourned the negro's hearing until March 18.

Police headquarters last night received a telephone call that Dougherty had been knocked down by a negro, who used one of the restaurant chairs.

Officers Earl Schoonmaker and William Messing in one of the radio cars investigated, and were informed that no one in the restaurant at the time knew who the negro was, and that he had disappeared after using the chair on Dougherty.

The two officers continued the investigation, and at 2 o'clock this morning arrested Fitzgerald at his home, charging him with being the man who had struck and injured Dougherty.

Police said that an X-ray would be taken at the hospital to determine the extent of Dougherty's injuries. Later this morning Dougherty was discharged from the hospital, and returned to his job at the Chop House.

Case Against Tedesco Dismissed by Cashin

County Judge John M. Cashin has granted an order requiring the police department of Kingston, the New York State Department of Correction and the F. B. I. to return William Tedesco, 17, of Meadow street, Kingston, any and all fingerprint charts and photographs which came into their possession as the result of a recent arrest.

Tedesco was arrested on a charge of burglary made by officer Wesley Cramer on January 18. It was charged that Tedesco, with several other youths had entered the city-owned Play Center on lower Broadway on January 16, and caused considerable damage.

Held for action by a grand jury, Tedesco was indicted and arraigned in Supreme Court on burglary charge on January 30. The trial was then referred to the Court for Youthful Offenders before Judge Cashin.

Following dismissal of the case against Tedesco on February 18, his attorney, Chris J. Flanagan, brought a proceeding to compel the return of finger prints and photographs taken at the time of Tedesco's arrest. Judge Cashin upheld the motion.

Council Asked to Appropriate $233,380 for Streets and Welfare

Finance Committee in Favor of Spending $89,000 for Machinery and Equipment, but Defers Action on Other Requests for Funds Until Next Tuesday—Mayor Wants $100,000 for Streets—Memorial Committee to Decide on Dietz Stadium

The Common Council Tuesday evening was asked to appropriate $233,380.53 to be used for the purchase of machinery and equipment for the Board of Public Works for the cost of street reconstruction during 1946, and to carry on the work of the welfare department during the year.

The three requests were referred to the finance, ways and means committee, who reported favorably on floating a bond issue for $89,500 for the purchase of machinery and equipment and deferred action on the other two requests until next Tuesday evening, to which time the council adjourned.

The request for an appropriation for the purchase of machinery and equipment for the Board of Public Works was contained in a communication from Mayor W. F.

Edelkuth, who called attention to the need of the purchase, and said that the board had adopted a resolution authorizing the purchase if the council granted the appropriation.

The total amount to be expended is $94,528.75, but $5,000 of that amount was included in the 1946 budget.

The board desires to purchase, among other equipment, four waste trucks, one street flusher, two motor sweepers, two ten-ton snow plow trucks, one snow loader, one motor street cleaner, one mowing machine with plow, one motorcycle, three sand spreaders, a compressor and various other items.

$100,000 for Streets

The mayor also wrote that the public works board desired an appropriation of $100,000 for a proposed street reconstruction during the year, but contained no mention of what streets it was proposed to rebuild.

The mayor's communication was referred to the finance, ways and means committee, and is expected that the committee will submit a report on the request at the adjourned meeting.

The welfare department sent in a communication that there had not been sufficient funds appropriated in the 1946 budget to take care of the needy of the city, and asked that the council appropriate an additional $38,851.78 for that purpose.

The request was referred to the finance, ways and means committee, who are expected to report on the request at the adjourned meeting.

Strikes at a Glance

(By The Associated Press)

Continuing labor disputes keep idle approximately 800,000.

Major developments:
Railroads—Officials of two big railroad brotherhoods in several cities report strike of 300,000 engineers and trainmen to start Monday but national union presidents withhold immediate confirmation or denial; delay of reported walkout by mediation under railway labor act appears possible.

Communications—Federal conciliation chief reports "some progress" in efforts to avert nationwide strike of some 250,000 telephone workers, set for 6 a. m. Thursday; union president says only "satisfactory company offer" in wage dispute can prevent walkout.

Automotive—Deadlock continues in General Motors strike but corporation officials and C.I.O. United Auto Workers resume negotiations in renewed attempts at settlement of 106-day work stoppage by 175,000 production workers; union says strike is "lockout."

Coal—Nation's bituminous coal operators agree to meet with John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers on March 12 for contract negotiations; union has filed 30-day strike notices threatening walkout of 400,000 U.M.W. workers April 1 unless wage demands are met.

Shipping—Port of Philadelphia threatened with complete shutdown as 5,500 A.F.L. dock workers set to strike after breakdown of negotiations for wage increase.

Puts Hopes for Next 100 Years on Armed Unity of Two Countries to Check Red Moves Raps Expansion

Declares Nobody Is Able To Tell How Far Reds Will Play Hand

By ALEX. H. SINGLETON
Washington, March 6 (AP)—A disturbing new element beset suspicion-ridden Big Three relations today—Winston Churchill's plea for quick creation of an Anglo-American military alliance.

Here in the nation's capital two schools of diplomatic thought reacted to the impact of the Churchill address. One held that it would bring hidden distrust out into the open and force a showdown; the other that it would bolster belief that security must entail spheres of influence.

There appeared little sentiment to discount the weight of Churchill's words on American public opinion, coming as they did only five days after Secretary of State Byrnes told the world this country must stand ready to fight, if necessary, to protect the principles of the United Nations Charter.

On top of Byrnes' solemn words have piled these developments in recent weeks to strengthen arguments in some American diplomatic quarters that immediate steps to face meeting among the chiefs of state has become essential to renew wartime bonds of cooperation.

Disconcerting Factors

1. A United States protest sent to Moscow only yesterday against the failure of Russia to withdraw Red Army forces from Iran by the March 2 deadline.

2. A second note of protest based on a Chinese report of the Government that the Soviet Union had claimed Japanese industries in Manchuria as "war booty" and had proposed joint operation of much of the territory's basic industry. Neither note was made public, but this country has taken the stand that no such reparations settlement in Manchuria could be undertaken by Russia alone or by only Russia and China.

3. Canada's disclosure—and Russia's acknowledgment—that Soviet agents in Canada had obtained certain military secrets. Canada charged this was done by espionage and that the secrets included data on atomic bombs. Moscow said Canadian citizens gave a Soviet military attaché in Canada certain secret information which was not of special interest to Russian authorities.

4. Published reports from Dairen that Russian troops were deporting Japanese forces to Siberia for use in labor battalions.

5. A Soviet announcement that

Alderman Thomas F. Coughlin of the Seventh ward, offered the resolution, which also provided that the city lease the City Home property on Flatbush avenue to the consolidated welfare board for a nominal consideration.

Under the provisions of the lease the City Home will be taken over by the combined board together with all household furnishings, all equipment, live stock, food and all other personal properties used by the city welfare department.

Democrats Vote Down Moore Plan for State Aid to City

Majority Members of Council Kill J. Bruck's Resolution: Kingston Would Be Due for $913,025 as Against $413,629 Which City Received in Last Five Years

The Democratic majority in the Common Council Tuesday evening defeated a resolution offered by Alderman Joseph N. Bruck, Republican representative of the Eighth ward, requesting Governor Thomas E. Restaurant Cook Charges Negro Hit Him With Chair

Neil Dougherty Is Treated in Kingston Hospital; James Fitzgerald Under Arrest

Neil Dougherty, 48, employed as a cook in the Broadway Chop House at 19 Broadway was in the Kingston Hospital for treatment for a head injury, received at 11:50 o'clock Tuesday night when he was struck over the head with a chair, while James Fitzgerald, 20, of 81 Chambers street, a negro, is under arrest on a charge of third degree assault.

This morning in police court Judge Matthew V. Cahill adjourned the negro's hearing until March 18.

Officers Earl Schoonmaker and William Messing in one of the radio cars investigated, and were informed that no one in the restaurant at the time knew who the negro was, and that he had disappeared after using the chair on Dougherty.

The two officers continued the investigation, and at 2 o'clock this morning arrested Fitzgerald at his home, charging him with being the man who had struck and injured Dougherty.

Police said that an X-ray would be taken at the hospital to determine the extent of Dougherty's injuries. Later this morning Dougherty was discharged from the hospital, and returned to his job at the Chop House.

Case Against Tedesco Dismissed by Cashin

County Judge John M. Cashin has granted an order requiring the police department of Kingston, the New York State Department of Correction and the F. B. Puts Hopes for Next 100 Years on Armed Unity of Two Countries to Check Red Moves

Declares Nobody Is Able To Tell How Far Reds Will Play Hand

By ALEX H. SINGLETON

Washington, March 6 (AP)—A disturbing new element beset suspicion-riddled Big Three relations today—Winston Churchill's plea for quick creation of an Anglo-American military alliance.

Here in the nation's capital two schools of diplomatic thought reacted to the impact of the Churchill address. One held that it would bring hidden distrust out into the open and force a showdown; the other that it would bolster belief that security must entail spheres of influence.

There appeared little sentiment to discount the weight of Churchill's words on American public opinion, coming as they did only five days after Secretary of State Byrnes told the world this country must stand ready to fight, if necessary, to protect the principles of the United Nations Charter.

On top of Byrnes' solemn words have piled these developments in recent weeks to strengthen arguments in some American diplomatic quarters that another face to face meeting among the chiefs of state has become essential to renew wartime bonds of cooperation.

Disconcerting Factors

1. A United States protest sent to Moscow only yesterday against the failure of Russia to withdraw Red Army forces from Iran by the March 2 treaty deadline.

2. A second note of protest based on a Chinese report to this Government that the Soviet Union had claimed Japanese industries in Manchuria as "war booty" and had proposed joint operation of much of the territory's basic industry. Neither note made public, but this country has taken the stand that no such reparations settlement in Manchuria could be undertaken by Russia alone or by only Russia and China.

3. Canada's disclosure—and Russia's acknowledgment—that Soviet agents in Canada had obtained certain military secrets. Canada charged this was done by espionage and that the secrets included data on atomic bombs. Moscow said Canadian citizens gave a Soviet ministry attaché in Canada certain secret information which was not of special interest to Russian authorities.

4. Published reports from Dairen that Russian troops were deporting Japanese forces to Siberia for use in labor battalions.

5. A Soviet announcement that Continued on Page Ten

Strikes at a Glance

(By The Associated Press)

Continuing labor disputes keep idle approximately 800,000.

Major developments:

Railroads—Officials of two big railroad brotherhoods in several cities report strike of 300,000 engineers and trainmen to start Monday but national union presidents withhold immediate confirmation or denial; delay of reported walkout by mediation under railway labor act appears possible.

Communications—Federal conciliation chief reports "some progress" in efforts to avert nationwide strike of some 250,000 telephone workers, set for 6 a. m. Thursday; union president says only "satisfactory company offer" in wage dispute can prevent walkout.

Automotive—Deadlock continues in General Motors strike but corporation officials and C.I.O. United Auto Workers resume negotiations in renewed attempts at settlement of 106-day work stoppage by 175,000 production workers; union says strike is "lockout."

Coal—Nation's bituminous coal operators agree to meet with John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers on March 12 for contract negotiations; union has filed 30-day strike notices threatening walkout of 400,000 U.M.W. workers April 1 unless wage demands are met.

Shipping—Port of Philadelphia threatened with complete shutdown as 5,500 A.F.L. dock workers set to strike after breakdown of negotiations for wage increase.

The World Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP World Traveler

Bern, Switzerland, March 5.—Letters are arriving from readers who are anxious to tour Europe and want advice on how to go about it.

That's a project for which your globe trotting columnist team has a sympathetic understanding. We have the same urge and it grows stronger as we proceed on the great adventure of watching the rebirth of a continent. It's a rare privilege to witness this epochal metamorphosis at close range.

However, the very fact that this is one of the great changes of the ages, and that it is being staged in the midst of unprecedented destruction, is fair warning that observers must expect to encounter many difficulties and hardships. I don't say this to discourage those who would see for themselves, but only to give them a friendly tip, so that they may be prepared.

There are European countries which are looking forward eagerly to a renewal of tourist trade. Among them is Switzerland, which is making special plans to accommodate visitors. But there are many others which are too badly hurt to be able to deal with any great influx of tourists for a very considerable time, and in these countries the traveler encounters harsh difficulties.

Therefore, our advice to would-be tourists embarking on the journey which they wish to visit to determine whether it's a suitable time.

One important item to remember is that touring in Europe is devilishly expensive. Don't start out with the idea that you can do it cheaply and still have adequate food and lodging. The reason, of course, is that there is a great shortage of food and housing in most countries. There is a scarcity of coal and many other necessities. Communications are disorganized and there is such a lack of rolling stock that travel is a gamble, with the odds all against the tourist.

Naturally the objective of most visitors—the devastated area of Germany—is unattainable at present by the average traveler. There is neither food nor shelter to spare, though the conquered territories presumably will be opened up in due course.

Stamps IN THE NEWS

Postwar Italy's first distinctive postal issues since the suppression of Fascism appropriately symbolize the Italian liberation and rise of the new government. Just arrived in this country, the new issues include 14 postage, four airmail and two special delivery values.

A hammer severing a chain is pictured on the 10 and 80-cent and 10-lire values. A couple of justice on the 20-cent and 20-lire denominations.

The beginning of the new government is symbolized in designs picturing the planting of a tree (40-c and 1-l) and growth of a tree (60-c and 2-l values). The 120, 3 and 20-l denominations depict a torch held high. "Italia" arises from a sprouting oak stump on the 25 and 50-l values. The airmail designs include flying swallows and clasped hands against a plane. A winged foot and horse and torch-bearer are pictured on the two special delivery stamps.

New Zealand's 1945 "health" semi-postals just issued, feature the statue of Peter Pan that stands in Kensington Gardens, London. Designed by J. Berry of Wellington, New Zealand, the stamp values and colors are one plus one-half pence, gray-green and buff and one plus two pence, carmine and cinnamon. The Peter Pan statue is the work of the English sculptor, Sir George Frampton.

When the president or vice president of another nation visits Ecuador, new stamps or overprints are inevitable. Witness such issues in honor of Henry Wallace, then Vice President and now Secretary of Commerce. Presidents of Bolivia, Paraguay and Venezuela were similarly honored in recent years.

Latest of Ecuador's good will issues are six overprints marking the visit of President Juan Antonio D. of Chile. Three postage and a like number of airmail values of Ecuador's 1938 U. S. Constitution commemorative set were overprinted with a blue star and the inscription, in gold, "Lloro A Chile Octubre 2, 1945." The same stamps and values were overprinted for the Wallace visit in 1943.

Stamp notes in brief: Norway pays tribute to the Red Cross on its 50th anniversary this year with a 20-plus-10 red and white stamp picturing a Red Cross nurse. Letters from 243 leaders in every field appeared in a petition presented to President Truman by the National Association of Broadcasters asking for a stamp commemorating U. S. broadcasting's 25th anniversary.

Emil Bruechig, New York stamp expert and dealer, reports the discovery of 10 sheets of the 1938 U. S. airmail stamp (Scott's C22) printed in ultra-marine and carmine instead of the correct dark blue and carmine. Bruechig reports that editors of Scott's and Sanabria's catalogs will list the stamp as an "error," a rare listing for U. S. stamps. The New York dealer says the stamps were purchased by a collector in Texas years ago and that none of the same color have been discovered since.

U. S. Training P.W.'s As Exponents of Democracy

Washington, March 6 (AP)—The Army disclosed today workings of a plan whereby hand-picked prisoners of war are given an intensive course in the principles of democracy and sent back to Germany or Austria as free men.

Already 16,000 prisoners have received the six-day indoctrination at nearby Fort Eustis, Va. Another 1,258 were rejected because they failed to meet qualifications. Former Nazis and professional Army men are barred.

Those who pass the course are discharged as civilians when they reach their homeland. Other returned prisoners are turned over to the military, and are subject to such assignments as laborers for France.

In all, 22,000 prisoners among 370,000 Germans and Austrians in this country were chosen by prison camp commanders to receive the special treatment.

The World Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP World Traveler

Bern, Switzerland, March 5—Letters are arriving from readers who are anxious to tour Europe and want advice on how to go about it.

That's a project for which your globe trotting columnist team has a sympathetic understanding. We have the same urge and it grows stronger as we proceed on the great adventure of watching the rebirth of a continent. It's a rare privilege to witness this epochal metamorphosis at close range.

However, the very fact that this is one of the great changes of the ages, and that it is being staged in the midst of unprecedented destruction, is fair warning that observers must expect to encounter many difficulties and hardships. I don't say this to discourage those who would see for themselves, but only to give them a friendly tip, so that they may be prepared.

There are European countries which are looking forward eagerly to a renewal of tourist trade. Among them is Switzerland, which is making special plans to accommodate visitors. But there are many others which are too badly hurt to be able to deal with any great influx of tourists for a very considerable time, and in these countries the traveler encounters harsh difficulties.

Therefore, our advice to would-be tourists is to consult the consulates or embassies of the countries which they wish to visit to determine whether it is a suitable time.

One important item to remember is that touring in Europe is devilishly expensive. Don't start out with the idea that you can do it cheaply and still have adequate food and lodging. The reason, of course, is that there is a great shortage of food and housing in most countries. There is a scarcity of coal which is tragic in many areas. Communications are disorganized and there is such a lack of rolling stock that travel is a gamble, with the odds all against the tourist.

Naturally the objective of most visitors—the devastated area of Germany—is unattainable at present by the average traveler. There is neither food nor shelter to spare, though the conquered territories presumably will be opened up in due course.

LADY NEARLY CHOKED WHILE LYING IN BED—DUE TO STOMACH GAS

One lady said a few days ago that she used to be afraid to go to bed at night. She was swollen with stomach gas, which always got worse when she went to bed, and the gas would rise up in her throat after she lay down and would nearly choke her. She couldn't lie flat. Had to prop herself up on pillows. Recently this lady got ERB-HELP and now says gas is gone, stomach feels fine, bowels are regular and she can go to bed and sleep soundly.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Sold by All Drug Stores here in Kingston.

Postwar Italy's first distinctive postal issues since the suppression of Fascism appropriately symbolize the Italian liberation and rise of the new government. Just arrived in this country, the new issues include 14 postage, four airmail and two special delivery values.

A hammer severing a chain is pictured on the 10 and 80-cent issues and 10-cent and 20-cent issues. The beginning of the new government is symbolized in designs picturing the planting of a tree (60-cent and 20-cent values). The 120, 3 and 20-1 denominations depict a torch held high. "Italia" arises from a sprouting oak stump on the 25 and 50-1 values. The airmail designs include flying swallows and clasped hands against a plane. A winged foot and horse and torch-bearer are pictured on the two special delivery stamps.

New Zealand's 1945 "health" semi-postals, just issued, feature the statue of Peter Pan that stands in Kensington Gardens, London. Designed by J. Berry of Wellington, New Zealand, the stamp values and colors are one plus one-half pence, gray-green and buff and one plus two pence, carmine and cinnamon. The Peter Pan statue is the work of the English sculptor, Sir George Frampton.

When the president or vice president of another nation visits Ecuador, new stamps or overprints are inevitable. Witness such issues in honor of Henry Wallace, then Vice President and now Secretary of Commerce. Presidents of Bolivia, Paraguay and Venezuela were similarly honored in recent years.

Latest of Ecuador's good will issues are six overprints marking the visit of President Juan Antonio Dios of Chile. Three postage and a like number of airmail values of Ecuador's 1938 U. S. Constitution commemorative set were overprinted with a blue star and the inscription, in gold, "Llor A Chile Octubre 2, 1945." The same stamps and values were overprinted for the Wallace visit in 1943.

Exponents of Democracy

Washington, March 6 (AP)—Army disclosed today workings of a plan whereby hand-picked prisoners of war are given an intensive course in the principles of democracy and sent back to Germany or Austria as free men.

Already 16,000 prisoners have received the six-day indoctrination at new Fort Eustis, Va. Another 1,250 were rejected because they failed to meet qualifications. Former Nazis and professional Army men are barred.

Those who pass the course are discharged as civilians when they reach their homeland. Other returned prisoners are turned over to the military, and are subject to such assignments as labor for France.

In all, 22,000 prisoners among 370,000 Germans and Austrians in this country were chosen by prison camp commanders to receive the special treatment.

By TOM BENTON
Albany, N. Y., March 6 (P)—
Governor Dewey's proposed transfer of the State Child Care Program from the war council to the State Youth Commission would jeopardize the program, two Democratic legislators contended
today.

Senator Arthur Wachtel and Assemblyman Julius J. Gains, both of the Bronx, said in introducing a bill to continue the program under the War Council that the Youth Commission would not have enough funds to administer it properly.

"It is estimated that the child care projects will require x x x an additional appropriation of $2,000-000, they said. "The Governor's budget, however, provides for an increased appropriation for all of the activities of the Youth Commission for 1946 to 1947 of only an additional $1,000,000.

The Youth Commission was established primarily to combat juvenile delinquency.

Other bills introduced would:
Provide for retirement of uniformed personnel in Correction Department Institutions after 25 years service or at the age of 60.

Flashes of Life
Sketched in Brief

Uncle Sam Collects
Stamford, Conn., March 6 (P)— Sometimes it takes a long while but an army paymaster always catches up with a mistake. S/Sgt.
Sam Neale, on recruiting duty here, has received a request from the U. S. Army that he forthwith remit $2.08—for overpay he received in Newfoundland-five years ago.

Catastrophe
Sacramento, Calif., March 6
(P)—Because his coffee was hot, Frank Taylor, 49, wound up in emergency hospital for lacerations of his right ear and lower lip.
This is how it happened:
Taylor's coffee was so hot he choked. His false teeth, turned crosswise in his mouth and cut his lip. Unnerved, he fell off his chair, struck his head against the table and cut his ear.

No Alibis, Please
Chicago, March 6 (P)—Dave Mill, a mounted policeman whose assignment includes keeping autos from parking in front of Central Police Station, says he hasn't received one valid excuse from any of the 12 policemen he gave tickets for traffic violations.
Mill said when he tagged a policeman's car yesterday, the officer explained "some other driver pushed my car into the no parking area."

Familiar Grounds
Chicago, March 6 (P)—Four lawyers representing either landlords or tenants in Renters Court became speechless, momentarily, yesterday when their names were read off as defendants in an eviction suit.

The attorneys occupy a suite in a loop building. The building corporation seeks to evict them, but none had been served with a summons. The case was not scheduled and Judge Samuel Heller set it for March 11.

"We want a lawyer," chorused
the lawyers and named H. B. Ritman to represent them.

Homma Admits Death Penalty Wasn't Surprise
Manila, March 6 (P)—Lt. Gen.
Masaharu Homma realized two months before his war-crimes trial that he should have killed himself, he wrote in a letter of thanks to his defense counsel, made public
today.

The former supreme commander of Japanese forces which invaded the Philippines now is awaiting execution by an American firing squad for ordering the Bataan Death March and permitting other atrocities.

He knew in advance what the verdict in his war-crimes trial would be, his letter declared,
"only I could not think that the commander-in-chief could be punished by death for his moral responsibility." (During the trial he had acknowledged moral responsibility for actions of his subordinates.)

William H. Wells Dies; Was Vermont Governor

Brockton, Mass., March 6 (P)—
William H. Wells, 63, former governor of Vermont and member of the Federal Communications Commission, collapsed and died early today in the Bryant Hotel. Medical Examiner Dr. Pierce H. Lou-vitt said death was due to a heart ailment. Wells was in Brockton for a F.C.C. hearing. He served as Vermont's wartime governor, having been elected to his second term in 1943.

Born in Chicago, he went with his parents to Vermont as a boy.
He is survived by his wife and a daughter, Mrs. Anne Pikes.

Loan Funds Available to Vets
Under F.S.A. Are Not Limited

The Farm Security Administration office at Kingston, serving Dutchess, Greene, and Ulster counties, announced today that funds for farm operating loans are limited and predicted that loans
might run out well before the end of the fiscal year.

"Farmers, both veterans and non-veterans, needing our credit, will be wise to make their loan applications soon," said F. A. Norman, F.S.A. county supervisor. "As usual, we will serve farmers who cannot get adequate credit elsewhere."

The supervisor stated that the demand for loans here is 15 per cent greater this year than last

MEN FROM WISCONSIN

The choice of Julius A. Krug of Wisconsin as secretary of the Interior adds one more name to the surprisingly short list of Wisconsin men who have served in the cabinet. There have been only five before Krug, and four of them served as postmaster-general.

Alexander W. Randall, an early governor of the state, held office under President Johnson. President Arthur gave the post to ex-senator Timothy O. Howe, and President Cleveland to William F. Vilas, remembered for his Tammany-defying praise of Cleveland at the 1884 Democratic convention, "We love him for the enemies he has made." Vilas was later transferred for a short time to the interior department. The procession of postmaster-generals was completed by Henry C. Payne, an eminently practical politician, whose appointment by Theodore Roosevelt startled some of the president's friends.

The one Wisconsin cabinet member who did not serve in the postoffice department was ex-Gov. Jeremiah M. Rusk, President Harrison's secretary of agriculture. "Uncle Jerry," as everyone called him, was genial and competent, but the department was new, and his appointment did not rank in importance with Krug's.

ALL FOR LOVE

Edward renounced England's kingship and took Wally to wife. Now a Swedish heir-apparent, a 29-year-old grandson of the aged king of Sweden, drops his princely title, becomes a mere Mr. Bernadotte to marry a 25-year-old love, who, like Wally, is a commoner and divorced. They came to the land of the free to be married. What got more attention from Americans than the romance was the fact that Mr. Ex-Prince managed to find an apartment.

These foreigners, said New Yorkers good naturedly enough, come in and snatch our homes from under our noses! But it's all right. The new missus who's never going to be a queen is pretty, and from her pictures looks quite worth the price of a throne. Everybody loves a lover, and kings are a bit out of style these days anyway.

NEW HOMES

Half a million new houses will be built this year, but they won't be "mansions." Materials are going to be scarce, and most of the houses will be held down in price to $6,000 or less. There will be enough materials and labor available, apparently, for 500,000 new homes of the standards referred to. Those who are able to get them will consider themselves very lucky.

From this new start, in due time, there may be expected (barring another war) a gradual return to the mansion types suitable for millionaires. But there won't be so many millionaires as before. There will be an ever-increasing number of people owning comfortable but modest homes. The trend is in that direction.

CIVIC SUB-CENTERS

Civic sub-centers are the latest municipal wrinkle. Detroit plans 16 of them, each to serve a community of 75,000 to 100,000 people. They will have offices for such public services as health, welfare, employment, licenses, school attendance, police, fire, postal substations, schools and libraries, a community auditorium and playground. Naturally community shopping areas and movies will form around these sub-centers.

All this is a form of necessary decentralization. Big cities are just too big for their residents to use with comfort. It divides them into smaller ones, more like our own.

The war at least diminished the urgency of an old-time problem: how to get rid of abandoned chewing gum without annoying the next person to encounter it. With gum soon to appear again in quantity, this is America's No. 2 postwar problem.

Americans have at least gained realism in a quarter of a century. After the last war we thought it would be possible to get speedily back to normalcy.

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

HOOVERIZED RELIEF

The essential difference in the concept of relief between Herbert Hoover and those who have led the feeding of the world to the verge of calamity is that Hoover, being American by philosophy and a Quaker by religion, cannot rely upon coercive and involuntary actions. He would appeal to the decency, the charity, the pity and pride of the American people and he knows that favorable results are inevitable.

As long as O.P.A. coerces and confuses the American people, everyone of us becomes actively or passively part of the black market. It is natural for a normal, healthy American to resist a bossy politician and office-holder. When we see estimates that 150,000,000 bushels of wheat went down the gullets of animals because of O.P.A. price differentials, when simple arithmetic shows that that is three-fifths of the shortage—I shall eat a steak or a loaf of bread out of order. It is one American way of indicating disrespect for the objection to bad administration.

But when the finer sensibilities of an American are appealed to, without force, without government edicts and huge staffs, to give up something that is not really a sacrifice, he will do it. A people who throw hundreds of millions into charity drives, without examination, purely on the say-so of highly publicized appeals, will certainly agree to have their bread sliced thinner if anyone asks them nicely. If Chester Bowles does not spoil everything, the President's Committee headed by Herbert Hoover and Chester Davis will so move the American people that one who eats more than he really needs will gag on the surplus.

Actually, the shortage is in two commodities, wheat and fats. It is a serious shortage and it is universal. Way back last June, Mr. Hoover warned of the prospective shortage. He has called attention to the reduction of acreage devoted to wheat throughout the world due to the course of the war. When the harvests were in, there was no question at all as to what the winter would bring. It could only be hunger for the wheat-eating peoples of the world. Then the rice crops failed, and only wheat could serve as a substitute and wheat was already short. Mr. Hoover has sought to arouse the spirit of the American people, since 1939, to the plight of the starving, particularly to the tragedy of millions of women and children, so many of whom must be added to the 60,000,000 casualties of this war.

Where were our experts, our chart-makers, our economists? They were, as they are, scattered over all sorts of departments, quarrelling over ideologies which they do not believe and differentials which make no difference. What are their charts worth to those who die of hunger? While the world was hungering for bread, Chester Bowles was building his "Hold-the-Line" empire of equations and quotients and facts and fancies and getting publicity for himself with all the skill of an advertising man performing for a vainglorious client.

Way back in June, Mr. Hoover recommended that all food questions be placed in a single agency of government from seed to bread. He recommended as the proper agency the Department of Agriculture, which alone is organized to deal with the planting, the raising, the fabricating and distribution of food.

Instead of concentrating the food supply into a single administration, it was decentralized and dissected so that nearly every agency of government had a hand in it, including the befogged O.P.A. and the beclouded State Department. The result is that the farmer held back, the cattleman held back, black markets absorbed essential food products, hunger stalks the world. And as the O.P.A. knew nothing better to do, it wanted to restore rationing for all foods when all that is required is some measure of self-abnegation and self-control on the part of the American people in the consumption of wheat and fats.

What is needed immediately is for Congress to remove all food from O.P.A. control and place it in the hands of the Department of Agriculture, Food Administrator with full powers. Congress ought to insist that the political office-holders stop playing private politics with the vitamins of this nation.

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By James W. Barton, M.D.

MUSCLE TISSUE IS VALUABLE TISSUE

The rushing by aeroplane of 300 medical students to supervise the feeding with amino acids to thousands of allied soldiers in German prison camps at the close of the war, brought this new wonder food to the attention of the whole world.

While it has long been known that protein foods are good body builders and repair worn out tissues, it is only recently become known that amino acids, derived from proteins, can build and repair much more rapidly than proteins themselves. I have spoken before of how quickly these starving allied prisoners were restored to normal strength by these amino acids.

It was found during the war that soldiers worn down by wounds, which means the loss of much protein tissue, were able to withstand hardships and recovered in less time when fed with amino acids.

In Surgery, Dr. J. E. Howard states that surgeons have long noted that chronically debilitated patients are poor risks for operation. However, surgeons further noted that in cases where the protein tissues—muscles, nerves—were worn down, experienced quick healing of bed ulcers when they were given large amounts of amino acid.

"Patients with burns respond much better to skin grafting after their lost nitrogen (protein) stores have been replaced." Injuries and burns take more, or use up more of the body's store of nitrogen than do other ailments, so that the amino acids are particularly valuable in these cases.

In severe injury or serious illness there is a great amount of wastage or using up of protein tissue, because proteins, particularly muscle tissue, have more dynamic energy or heating power than other tissues. In other words the stronger or more muscular the patient is when injured the more he can give of this protein tissue to help fight the injury and thus make a quicker recovery.

Remember, being muscular is not the most important thing in life but it usually means that the individual has other health assets—good digestion, good lungs, strong heart. Five minutes' home exercise and a daily walk is a good investment.

It has been well said that weight is one of the clearest methods of knowing one's health. Magnesium is so weak in its pure state that a small boy could bend a half-inch bar, yet it is as strong as an alloy that will stand the shock of landing a bomber warplane.

About one-third of the fires put out by municipal fire departments in the United States are put out with hand extinguishers.

"Kill The Empire!"

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

One of the most spectacular fires in Kingston was that of the Kingston Hospital which broke out at noon on Saturday, February 20, 1926. The 55 patients in the hospital were removed without the loss of a single life or any accident. The Benedictine Hospital received 32 of the patients while the others were removed to the Nurses' Home and to private homes.

The fire was confined to the old hospital building and to the two attics in the new wings. The only damage to the four story addition in the rear was from smoke and water.

The board of managers of the hospital, following the fire, decided to rebuild, tearing down what remained of the old frame hospital, and erecting a modern building.

The new building is connected with the two wings and the four story addition in the rear.

The fire broke out during the noon hour when traffic was the heaviest on Broadway. All of the fire fighting equipment was ordered out by the fire department to battle the flames, and fighting the fire was under the direct control of Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy.

As the fire bells tolled the alarm the fire chief was at home eating dinner, and he quickly left the meal unfinished and drove to the scene in his car.

The police department also co-operated and all available men were called to handle the traffic and assist the firemen in fighting the blaze.

Later the hospital staged a financial drive to raise funds which were used to erect the present modern hospital building on the site of the old.

Turning from fires to minstrel shows, the Craftsmen's Club of Kingston Lodge, No. 10, F. & A. M., on March 8 and 9, 1926, presented a successful minstrel in

Can Democrats in the Senate Convict Pauley Without Blemishing Memory of Late President Roosevelt?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 6 — The Democratic Party in the United States Senate is about to vote either to blemish the memory of the late President Roosevelt or to declare that those who have participated in a smear against him have failed of their purpose.

The issue before the Senate is not only whether Edwin Pauley did anything wrong in discussing the postponement of a federal suit on oil lands with a former public official but whether the late Franklin D. Roosevelt shall be convicted on the unsupported testimony of this same former public official.

The record of the hearings before the Senate Naval Affairs Committee shows that Edwin Pauley raised, in his capacity as Democratic national treasurer, $300,000 from oil interests in California and that this was used in the 1944 presidential election campaign.

The record shows an accusation by a former public official that President Roosevelt in September, 1944 had discussed the oil situation in California and Mr. Pauley is alleged to have spoken of the desire of the oil interests in that state to persuade the federal government not to file a suit to obtain certain oil lands which were claimed by the State of California.

The record shows that in April 1944, according to the testimony of the former public official, the President of the United States had been "persuaded" by Mr. Pauley not to bring a test suit. Thus, if the testimony of the former public official is to be accepted as valid by the Senate, it means that the late president did not consider Mr. Pauley's activities a "raw proposition."

The funds were collected from the oil men and used in the campaign and the case was kept from the courts for a long, long while.

If what Mr. Pauley is accused of doing were proved true, it would mean that he had influenced a president of the United States as a consequence of the $300,000 contributions by California oil men or because Mr. Roosevelt thought Mr. Pauley was right in his arguments irrespective of the campaign contributions.

It surely is an embarrassing moment for the Democratic party in the Senate. Mr. Pauley is insisting on a vote, because he claims to be innocent of the charges, but in a sense if he insists on a vote he may be contending that the late President should also be exonerated of the charge that he would ever, for a few minutes or a few months, be influenced to postpone the filing of a Federal suit in which contributors who helped his election campaign were directly or indirectly involved.

MEN FROM WISCONSIN

The choice of Julius A. Krug of Wisconsin as secretary of the Interior adds one more name to the surprisingly short list of Wisconsin men who have served in the cabinet. There have been only five before Krug, and four of them served as postmaster-general.

Alexander W. Randall, an early governor of the state, held office under President Johnson. President Arthur gave the post to ex-senator Timothy O. Howe, and President Cleveland to William F. Vilas, remembered for his Tammany-defying praise of Cleveland at the 1884 Democratic convention, "We love him for the enemies he has made." Vilas was later transferred for a short time to the interior department. The procession of postmaster-generals was completed by Henry C. Payne, an eminently practical politician, whose appointment by Theodore Roosevelt startled some of the president's friends.

The one Wisconsin cabinet member who did not serve in the postoffice department was ex-Gov. Jeremiah M. Rusk, President Harrison's secretary of agriculture. "Uncle Jerry," as everyone called him, was genial and competent, but the department was new, and his appointment did not rank in importance with Krug's.

ALL FOR LOVE

Edward renounced England's kingship and took Wally to wife. Now a Swedish heir-apparent, a 29-year-old grandson of the aged king of Sweden, drops his princely title, becomes a mere Mr. Bernadotte to marry a 35-year-old love, who, like Wally, is a commoner and divorced. They came to the land of the free to be married. What got more attention from Americans than the romance was the fact that Mr. Ex-Prince managed to find an apartment.

These foreigners, said New Yorkers good naturedly enough, come in and snatch our homes from under our noses! But it's all right. The new missus who's never going to be a queen is pretty, and from her pictures looks quite worth the price of a throne. Everybody loves a lover, and kings are a bit out of style these days anyway.

NEW HOMES

Half a million new houses will be built this year, but they won't be "mansions." Materials are going to be scarce, and most of the houses will be held down in price to $6,000 or less. There will be enough materials and labor available, apparently, for 500,000 new homes of the standards referred to. Those who are able to get them will consider themselves very lucky.

From this new start, in due time, there may be expected (barring another war) a gradual return to the mansion types suitable for millionaires. But there won't be so many millionaires as before. There will be an ever-increasing number of people owning comfortable but modest homes. The trend is in that direction.

CIVIC SUB-CENTERS

Civic sub-centers are the latest municipal wrinkle. Detroit plans 16 of them, each to serve a community of 75,000 to 100,000 people. They will have offices for such public services as health, welfare, employment, licenses, school attendance, police, fire, postal substations, schools and libraries, a community auditorium and playground. Naturally community shopping areas and movies will form around these sub-centers.

All this is a form of necessary decentralization. Big cities are just too big for their residents to use with comfort. It divides them into smaller ones, more like our own.

The war at least diminished the urgency of an old-time problem: how to get rid of abandoned chewing gum without annoying the next person to encounter it. With gum soon to appear again in quantity, this is America's No. 2 postwar problem.

Americans have at least gained realism in a quarter of a century. After the last war we thought it would be possible to get speedily back to normalcy.

HOOVERIZED RELIEF

The essential difference in the concept of relief between Herbert Hoover and those who have led the feeding of the world to the verge of calamity is that Hoover, being American by philosophy and a Quaker by religion, cannot rely upon coercive and involuntary actions. He would appeal to the decency, the charity, the pity and pride of the American people and he knows that favorable results are inevitable.

As long as O.P.A. coerces and confuses the American people, everyone of us becomes actively or passively part of the black market. It is natural for a normal, healthy American to resist a bossy politician and office-holder. When we see estimates that 150,000,000 bushels of wheat went down the gullets of animals because of O.P.A. price differentials, when simple arithmetic shows that that is three-fifths of the shortage—I shall eat a steak or a loaf of bread out of order. It is one American way of indicating disrespect for the objection to bad administration.

But when the finer sensibilities of an American are appealed to, without force, without government edicts and huge staffs, to give up something that is not really a sacrifice, he will do it. A people who throw hundreds of millions into charity drives, without examination, purely on the basis of highly publicized appeals, will certainly agree to have their bread sliced thinner if anyone asks them nicely. If Chester Bowles does not spoil everything, the President's Committee headed by Herbert Hoover and Chester Davis will move the American people that one who eats more than he really needs will gag on the surplus.

Actually, the shortage is in two commodities, wheat and fats. It is a serious shortage and it is universal. Way back last June, Mr. Hoover warned of the prospective shortage. He has called attention to the reduction of acreage devoted to wheat throughout the world due to the course of the war. When the harvests were in, there was no question at all as to what the winter would bring. It could only be hunger for the wheat-eating peoples of the world. Then the rice crops failed, and only wheat could serve as a substitute and wheat was already short. Mr. Hoover has sought to arouse the spirit of the American people, since 1939, to the plight of the starving, particularly to the tragedy of millions of women and children, so many of whom must be added to the 60,000,000 casualties of this war.

Where were our experts, our chart-makers, our economists? They were, as they are, scattered over all sorts of departments, quarrelling over ideologies which they do not believe and differentials which make no difference. What are their charts worth to those who die of hunger? While the world was hungering for bread, Chester Bowles was building his "Hold-the-Line" empire of quotations and quotients and facts and fancies and getting publicity for himself with all the skill of an advertising man performing for a vainglorious client.

Way back in June, Mr. Hoover recommended that all food questions be placed in a single agency of government from seed to bread. He recommended as the proper agency the Department of Agriculture, which alone is organized to deal with the planting, the raising, the fabricating and distribution of food.

Instead of concentrating the food supply into a single administration, it was decentralized and dissected so that nearly every agency of government had a hand in it, including the befogged O.P.A. and the beleaguered State Department. The result is that the farmer held back, the cattleman held back, black markets absorbed essential food products, hunger stalks the world. And as the O.P.A. knew nothing better to do, it wanted to restore rationing for all foods when it was that is required is some measure of self-abnegation and self-control on the part of the American people in the consumption of wheat and fats.

What is needed immediately is for Congress to remove all food from O.P.A. control and to make the Secretary of Agriculture, Food Administrator with full powers. Congress ought to insist that the political office-holders stop playing private politics with the vitamins of this nation. (Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THAT BODY OF YOURS

MUSCLE TISSUE IS VALUABLE TISSUE

The rushing by aeroplane of 300 medical students to supervise the feeding with amino acids to thousands of allied soldiers in German prison camps at the close of the war, brought this new wonder food to the attention of the whole world.

While it has long been known that protein foods are good body builders and repair worn out tissues, it is only recently become known that amino acids, derived from proteins, can build and repair much more rapidly than proteins themselves. I have spoken before of how quickly these starving allied prisoners were restored to normal strength by these amino acids.

It was found during the war that soldiers worn down by wounds, which means the loss of much protein tissue, were able to withstand hardships and recovered in less time when fed with amino acids.

In Surgery, Dr. J. E. Howard states that surgeons have long noted that chronically debilitated patients are poor risks for operation. However, surgeons further noted that in cases where the protein tissues—muscles, nerves—were worn down, experienced quick healing of bed ulcers when they were given large amounts of amino acid.

"Patients with burns respond much better to skin grafting after their lost nitrogen (protein) stores have been replaced." Injuries and burns take more, or use up more of the body's store of nitrogen than do other ailments, so that the amino acids are particularly valuable in these cases.

In severe injury or serious illness there is a great amount of wastage or using up of protein tissue, because proteins, particularly muscle tissue, have more dynamic energy or heating power than other tissues. In other words the stronger or more muscular the patient is when injured the more he can give of this protein tissue to help fight the injury and thus make a quicker recovery.

Remember, being muscular is not the most important thing in life but it usually means that the individual has other health assets—good digestion, good lungs, strong heart. Five minutes more exercise and a daily walk is a good investment.

It has been well said that weight is one of the clearest methods of knowing one's health. Magnesium is so weak in its pure state that a small boy could bend a half-inch bar, yet it is so tough as an alloy that it will stand the shock of landing a 30-ton warplane.

About one-third of the fires put out by municipal fire departments in the United States are put out with hand extinguishers.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

One of the most spectacular fires in Kingston was that of the Kingston Hospital which broke out at noon on Saturday, February 20, 1926. The 55 patients in the hospital were removed without the loss of a single life or any accident. The Benedictine Hospital received 32 of the patients while the others were removed to the Nurses' Home and to private homes.

The fire was confined to the old hospital building and to the two attics in the new wings. The only damage to the four story addition in the rear was from smoke and water.

The board of managers of the hospital, following the fire, decided to rebuild, tearing down what remained of the old frame hospital, and erecting a modern building on the site to be connected with the two wings and the four story addition in the rear.

The fire broke out during the noon hour when traffic was the heaviest on Broadway. All of the fire fighting equipment was ordered out by the fire department to battle the flames, and fighting the fire was under the direct control of Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy.

As the fire bells tolled the alarm the fire chief was at the scene, and he quickly left the meal unfinished and drove to the scene in his car.

The police department also cooperated and all available men were called to handle the traffic and assist the firemen in fighting the blaze.

Later the hospital staged a financial drive to raise funds which were used to erect the present modern hospital building on the site of the old.

Turning from fires to minstrel shows, the Craftsman's Club of Kingston Lodge, No. 10, F. & A. M., on March 8 and 9, 1926, presented a successful minstrel in Masonic Hall on Wall street, opposite the court house.

Arthur A. Davis, widely known banking official of the Kingston Trust Co., was interlocutor, and the endmen were William G. Newkirk, William F. Murray, Alfred G. Messinger, Herbert E. Thomas, James H. Winters and Ralph Glendinning.

In the circle were Kenneth J. Deyo, John T. R. Hall, Ernest LeFevre, Richard Scherer, Harry Clearwater, Arthur J. Keator, Alva Buley, Walter Hallenbeck, Frank Elmendorf, Herman La-Tour, Howard Crispell, Clarence J. Babcock, Duane J. Forman, Amos Mac Creery and Arthur B. Flick.

Those appearing in the olio included Richard Obenaus, Harry Lazarus, Drum Major James Pierce, Harry Maisenhelder, Al King, Sam Tinney and George Silkworth.

T. H. Richard was the coach of the show, while Paul A. Zucca was musical director.

Jacob Hauck, widely known baker downtown, died in his home on lower Broadway on February 4, 1926. He had been engaged in the bakery business for 45 years at the time of his death. For a number of years he conducted a bakery on lower Broadway.

In 1881 a traveler coming down the Missouri river reported that his boat was tied up three days while thousands of buffalo crossed the river.

Can Democrats in the Senate Convict Pauley Without Bismirching Memory of Late President Roosevelt?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 6.—The Democratic Party in the United States Senate is about to vote either to bismirch the memory of the late President Roosevelt or to declare that those who have participated in a smear against him have failed of their purpose.

The issue before the Senate is not only whether Edwin Pauley did anything wrong in discussing the postponement of a federal suit on oil lands with a former public official but whether the late Franklin D. Roosevelt shall be convicted on the unsupported testimony of this same former public official.

The record of the hearings before the Senate Naval Affairs Committee shows that Edwin Pauley raised, in his capacity as Democratic national treasurer, $300,000 from oil interests in California and that this was used in the 1944 presidential election campaign.

The record shows an accusation by a former public official that President Roosevelt in September, 1944 had discussed the oil situation in California and Mr. Pauley is alleged to have spoken of the desire of the oil interests in that state to persuade the federal government not to file a suit to obtain certain oil lands which were claimed by the State of California.

The record shows that in April 1944, according to the testimony of the former public official, the President of the United States had been persuaded by Mr. Pauley not to bring a test suit.

Thus, if the testimony of the former public official is to be accepted as valid by the Senate, does it mean that the late president did not consider Mr. Pauley's activities a "raw proposition?"

The funds were collected from the oil men and used in the campaign and the cases kept from the courts for a long time while.

If what Mr. Pauley is accused of doing were proved true, it would mean that he had influenced a president of the United States as a consequence of the $300,000 contributions by California oil men because Mr. Roosevelt thought Mr. Pauley was right in his arguments irrespective of the campaign contributions.

Subsequently the suit was brought, but if what Mr. Pauley is accused of doing actually happened, then there may have been a violation of Federal statutes which forbid the use of improper influence in endeavoring to persuade public officials to take or refrain from taking action in certain official matters. If this incident occurred, then it is pertinent to inquire why the alleged violation was not reported for prosecution to the Attorney General in September 1944 when it is alleged to have occurred.

The question also arises whether the same proposal made to the former public official was also made to the former public official. The answer is that in view of the fact that the late President Roosevelt knew of Mr. Pauley's interest in the oil suits, for the former public official reveals that Mr. Pauley had previously discussed the matter with the late President and allegedly was asked to talk it over with the head of the Department of the Interior.

Can the Democrats in the Senate convict Mr. Pauley without at the same time seeming to accuse the late Mr. Roosevelt, too? This may be one reason why so much pressure has been brought to bear on Mr. Pauley to withdraw so as to spare the Democrats the embarrassment of voting on the issue at all. But President Truman seems to feel that the former public official who testified may have been "mistaken" as to the purport of the conversation he had with Mr. Pauley. Possibly Mr. Truman means that maybe the former public official was "mistaken" too, about the part the late Mr. Roosevelt played in the matter.

It surely is an embarrassing moment for the Democratic party in the Senate. Mr. Pauley is insisting on a vote, because he claims to be innocent of the charges, but in a sense, if he insists on a vote, he may be contending that the President should also be exonerated of the charge that he would ever, for a few minutes or a few months, be influenced to postpone the filing of a Federal suit which would have helped his election campaign were directly or indirectly involved. Senators Reject Churchill Plan

Washington, March 6 (AP)—A number of influential senators today rejected Winston Churchill's suggestion for a military coalition with Britain as an affront to the Russian retaliation and a "body blow" to the United Nations.

Senator George (D-Ga.) told a reporter that an agreement to dovetail American and British armed forces, such as proposed by the former Prime Minister in his Fulton, Mo., speech yesterday, would "weaken the United Nations as a strong and dominant organization."

Senator Ball (R-Minn.) commented that such an agreement "would obviously be interpreted by Russia as directed against her—and with some justification I think." He added this would be almost certain to force the Russians into counter alliances.

BE IT RESOLVED, that the action of the City Clerk of the City of Kingston is greatly deplored and regretted by your committee who respectfully permit that he be censured by the appropriate city authority; and
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that this committee greatly regrets the conflict in dates with the Kingston Shriners' Association and hereby extends to that organization its best wishes for their success on that evening; and
BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Hon. William F. Edelmuth, Mayor of the City of Kingston.

Fire Department War Vets Feted on Tuesday

Fifteen of the 16 members of the Kingston Paid Fire Department, who served during World War 2, have received honorable discharges from the armed forces, and resumed their duties with the fire department. The 16th member of the department, Clifford T. Bennett, was killed in action in Italy.

Tuesday night the members of the paid fire department tendered a banquet to the returned war veterans which was attended by the Common Council, members of the Board of Fire Commissioners and city and county officials.

The 15 veterans honored are Robert Hardwick, Edwin Van Eiten, Philip Ahl, Glyndon Southard, David Levy, Philip McGowan, Julius Bucholtz, Philip Maines, Edward Murphy, Alexander Maines, Frank Hornbeck, Anthony Alecco, James Breit, Howard Myer and Joseph Miles.

The banquet was held in the Central Fire Station which had been artistically decorated with the national colors for the event. There was one vacant chair at the banquet table in memory of the fireman who gave his life for his country.

Chief Is Toastmaster
Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, who presided as toastmaster, said that the funds to defray the cost of the banquet had been raised over a two-year period by the other members of the paid fire department, who made monthly contributions to the fund from their salaries.

The banquet opened with the pledge of allegiance to the flag and the invocation by the Rev. Frank L. Golnick, chaplain of the fire department, who also conducted a short memorial service in memory of Clifford T. Bennett, who before he entered the armed forces was dispatcher at the Central Fire Station.

The fire chief in his opening remarks pointed out that he had been a member of the city's fire department for 36 years. During those years he had seen many changes in the fire department.

When he first entered the department there were 10 horses used to haul the fire equipment to the fires. In 1915 the fire board purchased its first piece of motor equipment, and since then the department had been entirely modernized.

Fire Chief Murphy also pointed out the need of an adequate building code to replace the present antiquated one which had been in effect since 1910.

Mayor Sends Greetings
Robert L. Rhinehart, secretary to Mayor W. F. Edelmuth, said he wished to extend the mayor's greetings to the boys who had returned from service. The mayor, he said, was unable to attend the ceremonies as he was in New York city.

Letters of regret were read from Justice John T. Loughran and the Rev. Benjamin Roth.

Among those who spoke briefly were Richard Riseley, president of the Board of Fire Commissioners, Alderman-at-large John J. Schwenk, Secretary Don Williams of the Chamber of Commerce, Police Chief Charles Phinney, Corporation Counsel Arthur M. Ewig, City Judge Matthew V. Cahill and County Judge John M. Cashin, who presided at the principal dinners of the evening.

Men Congratulated
All of the speakers congratulated the veterans on their return to civilian life, and Chiefs Murphy and Phinney called attention to the difficulties experienced in getting men to fill their places while they were in the armed forces.

The dinner was attended by approximately 125 firemen and city and county officials.

Among the guests were a number of volunteer firemen of the city who had served with the armed forces during the recent war.

Sugar Price Hike Is Predicted Here

New O.P.A. Ruling Slated to Affect All Local Stores Shortly

It will cost a little more to sweeten your coffee, if you can get coupons to secure sugar, under a recent O.P.A. ruling which permits the price of sugar to be increased. Local shoppers are just beginning to have this increase pointed down to them and it may be some time before all stores are permitted to place the increase on their price tags.

On February 10 the O.P.A. sanctioned a half a cent increase per pound but at that time it was pointed down by the jobbers to the retailers only when stocks of sugar purchased at the old price had been disposed of. The increase applied only to sugar which was purchased at the higher wholesale price. Consequently local jobbers are just now putting the new price into effect as old inventories are being replaced by sugar purchased by them after the increase went into effect.

Situation Differs
One jobber in Kingston stated that the increase had been placed into effect last week by that firm, when old stocks were disposed of. Other firms have had the increase in effect for several days while others will not pass the increase on for a few days yet.

The ruling permitted an increase of approximately 1/2 cent per pound. The delivered price of sugar went up from $5.92 to $6.43 per hundred of bulk and five pound sacks increased 3 cents per sack under the new regulation in ordinary small grocery stores, bringing the ceiling up to 39 cents for five pound sacks. The old authorized price was 36 cents.

It is reported that there is plenty of sugar in warehouses and on the docks in New York as well as a surplus in the Cuban markets but the lack of releasing sugar coupons to the consumer prevents the stocks from being moved.

Charges have recently been made in Congress that O.P.A. is withholding release of merchandise and creating artificial shortages in order to warrant continuation of certain O.P.A. controls and justifying the continuation of O.P.A.

One jobber recently was approached by a sugar salesman who sought to have 1,000 tons of sugar stored locally "because storage capacity in New York was lacking" while failure to release more sugar coupons to the consumer was creating a congestion at the docks in New York and in Cuba. It was stated that sugar storage capacity in New York was taxed to the limit and there was need to move the surplus to other storage centers.

WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, Mar. 6.—At the regular monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary last Wednesday night it was voted to contribute $10 to the Red Cross drive.

It was also voted on to donate $5 to the Women's Infirmary at Tupper Lake. Only $1,000 is lacking toward reaching the goal of $30,000 for a building fund there. Kirkman's, Colgate's and La Rosa products coupons continue to come in to swell this fund and 608 coupons were sent to headquarters this past month.

There will be another big card party at the Legion building on Thursday, March 14, and a women's committee was appointed to collaborate with the men.

As usual some interesting welfare and rehabilitation reports were read and it was voted that this unit to help the State Department with the furnishing of food and clothing for orphaned French children adopted by this organization.

CHINA SEEKS TRANSPORT

Dyke-building along the Yellow River is the biggest engineering job being undertaken by the U.N.R.R.A. in China. Shanghai reports. Transportation is the hardest problem. Monthly shipments of 240,000 tons of U.N.R.R.A. goods for various purposes, will arrive aboard 20 ships at Shanghai. Getting the goods inland is difficult. In an endeavor to meet the situation, U.N.R.R.A. will send to China 200 motor launches and 600 tugboats for inland river navigation.

Newsman Satisfied Russians Recover Calmness Quickly

By RICHARD CUSHING

Tientsin, March 5 (AP)—Russians, frozen by surprise at seeing 22 uninvited foreign news correspondents roaming Soviet-held Manchuria, have recovered—and bared the door. Now that the stories are out, they're stopping trains to Mukden to search them for foreigners.

Only surprise could have enabled the coup which brought the first on-the-scene stories of Soviet activities, in the opinion of the first group of newsmen to return. For Soviet hospitality cooled after the first startled week.

Undoubtedly any more foreigners appearing in Russian-held territory will be in for a rough time unless they have proper Soviet-approved credentials—especially when Soviet officers hear what the boys have been writing about.

(Cushing wrote about: Shipping of Japanese war prisoners to Siberia; dismantling and removal of Manchurian industrial plants; full-dress military maneuvers of the Red Army outside Dairen.)

The first wave of eight Americans and one British writer had grown weary of red-tape which kept them out of Manchuria. They wanted to cover what they considered a legitimate news story within the jurisdiction of Lt. Gen.

Strong Headwinds Balk Ex-Gov. Hoffman's Pilot
Pilot Vincent Berardi of the Mid-Hudson Airways, who flew a Piper Cub to Hightstown, N. J., to meet former Governor Hoffman and bring him to Kingston for the Chamber of Commerce dinner Monday night, did not arrive there until 4:15 o'clock, whereas he was to have left on the return trip about 3:30 o'clock.

At the Kingston-Ulster Airport it was stated this morning that Berardi was slowed up by adverse winds and in addition lost a lot of time when he landed on a muddy field for gas. Normally he should have reached Hightstown before 3 o'clock.

There was considerable consternation on the part of Secretary Donald Williams and officers of the Chamber of Commerce when Colonel Hoffman had not arrived, after six o'clock, and the airport reported that they had no word from the pilot.

However the trip back was made without incident and with a tail wind good time was made. Colonel Hoffman arrived at the airport here about 6:25 o'clock and at the Governor Clinton shortly after 7 o'clock.

So they climbed aboard a train to Mukden.

Russians in Mukden still were suffering from that first shock when another group of a dozen correspondents arrived by the same expedient, bringing the total there to 21. A French newsmen turned up later, alone.

The first group found the Russians guarding the city with sub-machineguns. The newsmen didn't look around much, at first. The Soviets put them in the Intourist Hotel and said it would be dangerous outside. The correspondents drank Japanese beer and fumed, until eventually the Russians said they could roam. Certain factories, however, remained banned.

The second wave registered at the Intourist without incident and proceeded to look over the city. The first wave meanwhile decided to go to Changchun, the capital. The Mukden commandant strongly urged them not to go.

Sugar Price Hike Is Predicted Here

New O.P.A. Ruling Slated to Affect All Local Stores Shortly

It will cost a little more to sweeten your coffee, if you can get coupons to secure sugar, under a recent O.P.A. ruling which permits the price of sugar to be increased. Local shoppers are just beginning to have this increase handed down to them and it may be some time before all stores are permitted to place the increase into effect.

On February 10 the O.P.A. sanctioned a half a cent increase per pound but at that time it was stipulated that the increase was to be handed down by the jobbers to the retailers only when stocks of sugar purchased at the old price had been disposed of. The increase applied only to sugar which was purchased at the higher wholesale price. Consequently local jobbers are just now putting the new price into effect as old inventories are being replaced by sugar purchased by them after the increase went into effect.

Situation Differs

One jobber in Kingston stated that the increase had been placed into effect last week by that firm, when old stocks were disposed of. Other firms have had the increase in effect for several days while others will not pass the increase on for a few days yet.

The ruling permitted an increase of approximately 1/2 cent per pound. The delivered price of sugar went up from $5.92 to $6.45 per hundred of bulk and five pound sacks increased 3 cents per sack under the new regulation in ordinary small grocery stores, bringing the ceiling up to 39 cents for five pound sacks. The old authorized price was 36 cents.

It is reported that there is plenty of sugar in warehouses and at the docks in New York as well as a surplus in the Cuban markets but the lack of releasing sugar coupons to the consumer prevents the stocks from being moved.

Charges have recently been made in Congress that O.P.A. is withholding release of merchandise and creating artificial shortages in order to warrant continuation of certain O.P.A. controls and justifying the continuation of O.P.A.

One jobber recently was approached by a sugar salesman who sought to have 1,000 tons of sugar stored locally "because storage capacity in New York was lacking" while failure to release more sugar coupons to the consumer was creating a congestion at the docks both in New York and in Cuba.

It was stated that sugar storage capacity in New York was taxed to the limit and there was need to move the surplus to other storage centers.

WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, Mar. 6.—At the regular monthly meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary last Wednesday night it was voted to contribute $10 to the Red Cross drive.

It was also voted on to donate $5 to the Women's Infirmary at Tupper Lake. Only $1,000 is lacking toward reaching the goal of $30,000 for a building fund there. Kirkman's, Colgate's and La Rosa products coupons continue to come in to swell this fund and 606 coupons were sent to headquarters this past month.

There will be another big card party at the Legion building on Thursday, March 14, and a women's committee was appointed to collaborate with the men.

As usual some interesting welfare and rehabilitation reports were read and it was voted that this unit to help the State Department with the furnishing of food and clothing for orphaned French children adopted by this organization.

CHINA SEEKS TRANSPORT

Dyke-building along the Yellow River is the biggest engineering job being undertaken by the U.N.R.R.A. in China, Shanghai reports. Transportation is the hardest problem. Monthly shipments of 240,000 tons of U.N.R.R.A. goods, for various purposes, will arrive aboard 20 ships at Shanghai. Getting the goods inland is difficult. In an endeavor to meet the situation, U.N.R.R.A. will send to China 200 motor launches and 600 tugboats for inland river navigation.

ON THE SUBJECT OF WORDS

A reader comments: "I gather from what you have written on the subject of conversation that it is pretentious to say, 'Could not' and 'would not' instead of 'couldn't' and 'couldn't.' And then you disapprove of abbreviating 'draperies' to 'drapes' and 'formal clothes' to 'formals.' Isn't it more consistent to either abbreviate or not abbreviate?"

It would be more consistent if the pronunciation of through, enough and though were the same. In other words I have no idea why best usage approves certain forms and taboos others but that it does.

All Passengers Are Chaperones

Dear Mrs. Post: I expect to have my engagement announced soon and my fiancé would like me to go west with him soon after that time to meet his family. This would call for traveling on the train for two days and a night and mother said I'd better find out about the propriety of it before the time came to get my father's consent. Both my fiancé and I are 22. (Mother thought I'd better tell you that.)

Answer: Taking it for granted that you are being invited by his mother or whoever is head of his family, it would be quite proper for you to travel by train in an ordinary pullman or car with reclining chairs in either of which all the passengers will be your chaperones.

Item for the Boys

Dear Mrs. Post: A club I belong to is giving a dance and we, the girls, will each ask a boy of our own choosing. Naturally, the price to get in and the supper served during the intermission will be on the girls. But what about the taxi fare to and from the dance? If the girls are supposed to pay that, too, how shall we go about it?

Answer: You, of course, supply the tickets for the dance and the boys together pay the taxi.

Telephone Detail

Dear Mrs. Post: What is the correct phraseology when telephoning someone? "May I please speak with someone?" "May I please speak to someone?"

Answer: You speak to, but talk with.

Do you know your ABC's in manners?

Timken Hair Desires Music to the End

Greenwich, Conn., March 6.—A request that his body be cremated and the ashes scattered over the Mediterranean while the village band of Bordighera, Italy, played one of his favorite airs from "The Tales of Hoffman" was contained in the will of the late John Henning Fry, artist and heir to the Timken Rubber Company.

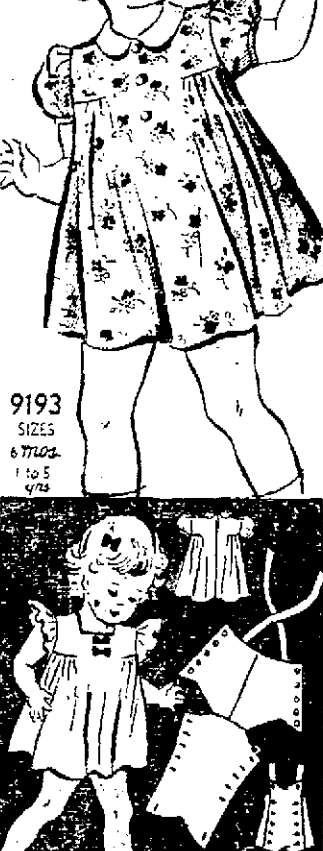

Principal beneficiary under the will, filed for probate here yesterday, is his adopted daughter, Mrs. Fredericka Fry Hale, of Greenwich.

The document did not disclose the value of the estate beyond listing Greenwich real estate at $40,000 and describing his personal estate as being "in excess of $10,000." He inherited $10,000,000 from his wife, the former Georgia Timken, who died in 1921.

The artist died at his Cos Cob home February 21 at the age of 95. He was a traditionalist in his painting and an outspoken foe of "modern art" who spent most of his life in Italy until the outbreak of the war. His will was drawn nine days before his death.

Legion Had Suggestion
A communication from the Kingston Post of the American Legion was read enclosing a copy of a resolution adopted by the Legion at its last meeting requesting the mayor and aldermen to appoint a committee for the purpose of selecting a suitable site for the erection of a memorial building dedicated to the veterans of World War I.

The communication was referred to Ernest Steuding, chairman of the city's memorial committee.

Subject Committee Report
Alderman-at-large John J. Schwenk and Alderman Paul A. Zucca submitted a minority report of the laws and rules committee asking that the council express its appreciation to Senator Arthur H. Wicks, Assemblyman John F. Wadlin, the state legislature, Governor Dewey and the State Bridge Authority for their cooperation in securing ferry service to operate until such time as a bridge is secured.

The report was rejected by the Democratic majority in the council. The report reads as follows: Under date of February 1, 1946 the honorable Mayor transmitted to the Common Council a letter calling the attention of this body to the Bills now pending in the New York State Legislature for the construction of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge and containing provisions relating to the operation of a temporary ferry between Kingston and Rhinecliff.

Mayor Edelmutt expressed his approval of these Bills introduced by a representative in the State Senate, the honorable Arthur H. Wicks, and stated that he had communicated with the minority leaders in the Senate and Assembly.

bly and Paul Fitzpatrick, Democratic State Chairman.

Not only is the propriety of asking the Chairman of a political party for this needed legislation open to question; but also it is the opinion of the minority members that such act is an attempt to make political capital out of the situation.

The Honorable Mayor recommended in his communication that this body go on record favoring the legislation proposed.

In conformity therewith a resolution has been introduced by Alderman Amato approving said legislation.

Your minority members are strongly in favor of a new bridge and temporary ferry. All our citizens agree on the proposition.

However, the resolution as introduced disregards the fact that the ferry for Rhinecliff-Kingston has already been purchased and that a ferry will operate as soon as weather conditions permit.

Your minority members therefore recommend that the resolution introduced be amended to add thereto the following:

That the Common Council of the City of Kingston hereby expresses its appreciation to Senator Arthur H. Wicks, Assemblyman John F. Wadlin, the State Legislature, Governor Thomas E. Dewey and the State Bridge Authority for their cooperation in securing a ferry service to operate until such time as a bridge is secured.

Legislative Roundup

By HENRY LEADER

Albany, N. Y., March 6 (AP)—Prospects of enactment of an over-all state minimum wage law this year faded today in the wake of disagreement between management and labor.

Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi had planned labor department sponsorship of a 55-cent an hour minimum covering all businesses, to replace the present law permitting him to set minimums in separate industries. But he was unable to obtain employer-employee agreement at an exploratory conference yesterday.

Spokesmen for the State Federation of Labor and the State CIO demanded a 65-cent minimum a 40-hour week and time and a half for overtime. Employer representatives said the 65-cent minimum was too high. They put forth various proposals but did not unite on a set minimum.

Corsi therefore has decided to proceed with his call to the wage stabilization boards of six industries for recommendations fixing new minimums. It is expected the boards will recommend that Corsi raise present minimums to meet increased costs of living.

Legislation extending the mortgage moratorium act to July 1, 1947, was up for a vote in the senate today and was expected to provoke sharp debate crossing party lines.

The moratorium has been in effect since 1933 and many legislators of both major parties feel the emergency is over and continuation of the law is unnecessary.

Nation's Oldest Passion Play to Begin 44th Year

Author Father Kenzel Was Prefect at Monastery in Esopus; Story Written in Hurry

By MARY ELIZABETH PRIM

Boston, March 6 (AP)—The nation's oldest passion play, which got its start as a hastily written Lenten presentation, will begin its 44th consecutive season tonight.

Written in 1902 by the Rev. Francis Kenzel, a Redemptorist priest, for the Catholic Mission Church's dramatic society, the play "Pilate's Daughter," has played before more than 1,500,000 persons, and helped earn thousands of dollars for charity.

Father Kenzel, former prefect at Mt. St. Alphonsus, Esopus, described it off as "something for Lent," with the idea of presenting it for two or three performances. Since then it has been presented almost 1,200 times.

To cope with the demand for tickets, the Rev. John M. Frawley, Mission Church rector and director of the play, now uses alternating casts.

"Ever since the play closed last Holy Week, people have been calling up from all over New England to reserve tickets for this season," said Father Frawley, adding:

"We now have two complete companies."

Miss Eurnice M. Murphy, who played the leading role, was discovered on her knees in prayer by the Rev. Joseph F. Scannell, former production director, as he was talent-scouting in Mission Church.

Miss Murphy, a newcomer to the parish, had never seen the play at that time. From walk-on parts she progressed to the leading role in two seasons. Her alternate is Miss Joan Gunn, a student at a Catholic private school.

Turned Down Bids

Although New York producers Charles and Daniel Frohman traveled to Boston in 1902 in hopes of arranging a Broadway production of "Pilate's Daughter," neither the late Father Kenzel nor successive producers ever have permitted the Roman maiden to stray from Mission Hill.

Broadway has not lost interest, however, and its celebrated stage designer, Jo Mielziner, recently offered to design new sets.

Still a Greater Boston Lenten project, the play has two casts of 74 girls—and one youth who appears in a tableau—and two backstage corps of 65 men and women. All are unpaid volunteers who work and rehearse most of the year.

The new double cast includes several grandchildren of the original group. Father Frawley said:

"Packed with drama and based on the effects of a miraculous rose tossed to the Savior by Pilate's Daughter, the miracle play is known far beyond New England."

A new associate director, the Rev. Joseph G. Daly, tells of many servicemen he met during five years as Army chaplain in the West Indies who said: "Mission Church, Father?—oh, yes, Pilate's Daughter's parish!"

SLAIN

George D. Leist, 25, (above) a Pennsylvania Central Airline pilot, was killed in his Washington, D. C., hotel room, and Coroner A. McGruder McDonald said Leist was shot by his foster father, Wilbur Stummiller, 38, of New York city, who then killed himself. (AP Wirephoto).

Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi had planned labor department sponsorship of a 55-cent an hour minimum covering all businesses, to replace the present law permitting him to set minimums in separate industries. But he was unable to obtain employer-employee agreement at an exploratory conference yesterday.

Spokesmen for the State Federation of Labor and the State CIO demanded a 65-cent minimum a 40-hour week and time and a half for overtime. Employer representatives said the 65-cent minimum was too high. They put forth various proposals but did not unite on a set minimum.

Corsi therefore has decided to proceed with his call to the wage stabilization boards of six industries for recommendations fixing new minimums. It is expected the boards will recommend that Corsi raise present minimums to meet increased costs of living.

Legislation extending the mortgage moratorium act to July 1, 1947, was up for a vote in the senate today and was expected to provoke sharp debate crossing party lines.

The moratorium has been in effect since 1933 and many legislators of both major parties feel the emergency is over and continuation of the law is unnecessary.

Sponsors predicted passage, however.

Meanwhile a controversy flared over a proposed amendment to the New York city commercial rent control laws.

John J. Lamula, legislative representative of the joint rent action committee, which claims to represent 66,000 commercial tenants, said the amendment, to exclude new buildings from commercial rent control, was "the opening wedge in a sly attempt to pry the lid off and kill rent control."

He ascribed the alleged attempt to what he termed "a small but cunning group of irresponsible real estate speculators."

Assemblyman D. Mallory Stephens, chairman of the Legislative Committee that sponsors rent control legislation, declared exclusion of new buildings would promote construction and thus tend to keep rent rates down.

Feed Your Dog as Many Famous Breeders Do

"...gets GRO-PUP every day"

Ralph W. Segerstrom, owner of Danedell Kennels Long Lake, Minn., says: "My Black and Hottel's Great Dane breeding stock is in fine condition. They get GRO-PUP every day. I start my puppies on GRO-PUP, too, and they're strong, healthy and full of vigor."

MOST breeders and veterinarians use and recommend a foundation diet of good dry dog food fed with scrap meat, including fat. So many feed Kellogg's gro-pup because it provides all the vitamins and minerals dogs are known to need for growth and vigor.

Kellogg's gro-pup is thrifty. And dogs love its hearty, meaty flavor.

AN OPEN LETTER To Our Neighbors in the Kingston Area:

We are the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union. Our organization is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

You will find our union in every town and city that produces ladies' apparel—from the Atlantic to the Pacific—from Canada to Mexico.

Garment workers belong to our union because they have learned that by co-operating with one another they have been able to secure a decent day's pay for a fair day's work.

Now we have come to Kingston! Why? Because the men and women employed in the garment factories need us as well as the industry.

Some people, in these troubled days, have prejudices against unions. Many people have just as strong prejudices against the employers. The truth is that both unions and employers have to learn to get along together in the general community. That's what our union believes in, that's what it practices.

OUR PROGRAM:

1. We will work for a higher standard of living for the Kingston Garment workers—that means greater prosperity for the entire Kingston community.
2. We aim to establish in all garment shops collective bargaining which means no strife, no fights, but settling our problems and grievances across the table.
3. We are planning to take part in all community projects—relief drives, civic betterment, health, recreation and educational programs in Kingston as we have in all other communities where the I.L.G.W.U. is organized.

Perhaps you've never met a union. Here's a union that wants to meet you. We have come to live and stay in Kingston. We hope—we want—to be friends as well as neighbors. Call on us to call on you.

Nation's Press Split Sharply On Churchill's Fulton Speech

(By The Associated Press)
Winston Churchill's Fulton, Mo., speech, calling for an Anglo-American alliance and accusing the Soviet Union of seeking "indefinite expansion" of its "power and doctrines," brought divergent editorial comment today from the nation's press.

The New York Times declared the former British prime minister came "with a message of such interest and importance to our country, to his, and to the world at large, that he converted his presence at Fulton into a historic event and in doing established a new bond between the Westminister that is the heart of Britain and the many Westminsters from one shore of this land to the other."

"The fact that President Truman accompanied him on this trip and introduced him to his audience," the paper continued, "lends added significance to what he said."

The New York Herald Tribune editorialized that Churchill's address "seems quite plainly to mean, if it means anything, that Soviet Russia is today a menace and a shadow" over the western world comparable to the menace of Nazism a decade ago; that it can be met only by such a show of strength as Mr. Churchill once called for in vain against Germany.

No Alliance Wanted
Atlanta, Ga., Constitution—"Mr. Churchill's call for a virtual military alliance of this country and Britain against the Soviet Union is a call for a virtual alliance of this country and Britain against the Soviet Union."

Hartford, Conn., Courant—"The former prime minister's measured attack on international Communism and on Soviet Russia's 'indefinite expansion' coupled with his proposal for a virtual military alliance between the British Commonwealth and the United States, is a misstep in post-war world relations. It is a sign that the wartime coalition with Russia has come close to the breaking point."

St. Louis Globe-Democrat—"The 'fraternal association' for which Mr. Churchill pleads is as common sense as it is necessary. Coming as it does within a few days after declarations by Senator Vandenberg and Secretary of State Byrnes, both of whom called for candor and stiffened backbone in our dealings with Russia, the declaration of Fulton has an added significance."

"Blinded Aristocrat"
Chicago Sun—"Winston Churchill at Fulton was lighting for his world. It is a world which no longer exists in reality. It cannot be reconstituted. To follow the standard raised by the great but blinded aristocrat would be to march to the world's most ghastly war. Let Mr. Truman's rejection of the poisonous doctrines declared by Mr. Churchill be prompt and emphatic."

Newark, N. J., Star-Ledger—"Winston Churchill's bold speech at Fulton, Mo., in the presence of President Truman was clearly not a Tory reflection upon the foreign policy of a British Labor government. On the contrary, Churchill was speaking as the best voice of all Britain, giving clarity, emphasis and fervor to the sentiments of the British government, in which he now plays the still important role of leader of the loyal opposition."

Philadelphia Inquirer—"There is substantial practicality in Churchill's suggestion for setting up a strong American-British military alliance. At the moment, however, Britain is involved in a number of problems having a military aspect. The clearing up of Britain's more clamorous Empire difficulties, on the other hand, might set the stage for a vigorous American-British military partnership for world peace."

Hicwa Kin Encouraged After Hearing by Army

Washington, March 6 (AP)—Mrs. Hicwa, widow of the late P.F.C. Joseph E. Hicwa, Jr., under sentence of death in the slaying of two Japanese civilians, said yesterday after pleading for her son's life before Maj. Gen. Thomas H. Green, the Army's judge advocate general, "He'll help us; I'm sure he will."

Mrs. Hicwa, the boy's father, and six relatives and friends made the trip to Washington yesterday to appeal for clemency for the 20-year-old soldier.

Dr. Stephen W. Lesko said that he had submitted evidence that the soldier suffered "considerable cerebral damage" during an accident while at play some years ago, an added that "in my opinion he should have been rejected for all military service."

No Comment

Tokyo, March 6 (AP)—General MacArthur's Headquarters had no comment today on a statement by Secretary of State Byrnes that the Supreme Allied Commander's authority extended to all areas in which there are Japanese troops including Russian-controlled Manchuria.

Roosevelt Estate To Be National Site April 12

Washington, March 6 (AP)—The Hyde Park home of Franklin D. Roosevelt will be formally dedicated as a national historic site April 12, the first anniversary of the former president's death.

Announcing this today, Acting Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman said President Truman will attend the ceremonies and deliver the principal address. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the late president, also will speak.

J. A. Krug, soon to become Secretary of the Interior, will accept the gift for the government. The ceremonies (2:30 p. m.) will be held on the veranda of the home. The announcement said several hundred persons from all over the world would be invited guests, and that thousands of the general public are expected to attend.

The site comprises 32.23 acres and includes the rose garden in which President Roosevelt was buried April 15, 1945. Mrs. Roosevelt reserved for Mrs. Roosevelt and their children a life interest in the estate, but all waived their rights, giving the government immediate possession.

Churchill Speech Urges Alliance

The Kuriles, strategic chain of islands across the entrance to the sea of Okhotsk, and southern Sakhalin, have been incorporated into Russia on the strength of a Yalta Agreement but without ratification by the United Nations.

Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson's statement yesterday that the soybean crop in Manchuria—essential to the peoples diet—had been "liberated" asked specifically as to whether Russia was responsible. Anderson replied "not primarily." He added that it might have been one of the Chinese factors.

Churchill Feels

Churchill did not mention Russia by name today in two-thirds of his speech. When he came to that point, he said: "A shadow has fallen upon the scenes so lately lighted by the Allied victory. Nobody knows what Soviet Russia and its Communist international organization intends to do in the immediate future, or what the limits, if any, to its expansive and proselytizing tendencies."

He mentioned his "strong admiration and regard" for the "valiant Russian people and for wartime comrade Marshal Stalin," but said: "It is my duty, however, to place before you certain facts about the present position in Europe." There, he said, an "iron curtain" has descended from the Baltic to the Adriatic.

Declaring that "this is certainly not the liberated Europe we fought to build up," Churchill cited as examples of Russian activity: Warsaw, Berlin, Prague, Vienna, Budapest, Belgrade, Bucharest and Sofia subjected to "a very high and increasing measure of central control."

He said that "enormous and wrongful inroads upon Germany," an attempt to build up a "quasi-Communist party" in Germany and Communist influences at work in Italy and France. He mentioned the anxiety over the Far East especially in Manchuria, and said Turkey and Persia are "profoundly alarmed" by Moscow demands.

Saying he did not believe the Soviet Union wants war, Churchill added, however, that prevention of another great war is possible only by "reaching now, in 1946, with Russian understanding on all points with Russia under the general authority of the United Nations Organization."

Britain's wartime leader held that due to the uncertain world situation it would be "wrong and imprudent" for the United States Britain and Canada to give the secret of the atomic bomb to the U.N.O. while that agency "is still in its infancy."

Moscow Papers Ignore Speech

Moscow, March 6 (AP)—Moscow morning newspapers made no mention today of Winston Churchill's address yesterday at Fulton, Mo., nor of the notes which the United States government addressed to Russia on problems involving Iran and Manchuria.

Also ignored were the remarks which A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, made last evening in the British House of Commons, concerning relations with Russia.

Receiving prominence were a proclamation of international women's day, an article on oil and another on agriculture, and a speech by the Polish premier.

Mixed Reaction in House of Commons

London, March 6 (AP)—Parliamentary circles predicted today that Winston Churchill's speech in Fulton, Mo., might have repercussions in the House of Commons, where some members were said to be curious as to whether the government had prior knowledge of his speech.

The parliamentary correspondent of the British Press Association said that Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin probably would be interrogated in Commons concerning the speech, in which the former prime minister expressed anxiety over Russia's intentions and urged a virtual British-American military alliance.

The correspondent said that Churchill's remarks had caused a good deal of interest and some surprise in the House, and declared the address had been criticized by some members "on the ground that it was very unhelpful to the United Nations Organization."

Ikkes Testimony Halted By Absence of Data

Washington, March 6 (AP)—Harold L. Ikkes told the Senate Naval Committee today his memoranda on conversations with Edwin W. Pauley are locked up in a bank vault and could not be produced immediately for examination.

The committee had ordered Ikkes to produce the memoranda which he testified previously he made three or four days after Pauley offered him "the rawest proposition ever made to me."

The former Secretary of Interior said he did not receive notification until 6:45 p. m. yesterday to appear again today as a witness on Pauley's nomination for Undersecretary of Navy and therefore came without the notes.

"I'm used to being given more or less of a bum's rush," said Ikkes, resigned recently from the Cabinet in a huff, "But to expect me to produce memoranda that are under time lock in a bank vault in the time given is too much."

Miss Stoehr, an adept fly caster and shotgun handler, served for 10 years before she received a permanent appointment as Deputy Game Warden in 1943.

Miss Stoehr held her "only woman game warden" distinction for a year until Mrs. Hal C. Beck was named game commissioner of Texas in 1934.

Brands Them Rumors

Washington, March 6 (AP)—After a busy night answering the deluge of queries, War Department spokesmen said today the following just isn't so:

1. That demobilization has been "froze."
2. That Army reserves are being "alerted" by telegram.
3. That leaves have been "canceled."

The War Department stated that all such rumors are completely unfounded.

President Seeks Religious Aid To Help the World

address an appeal for food sharing "to save the starving millions in Europe and Asia and Africa."

He said America's churches—Protestant and Catholic and the Jewish synagogue—bound together in the American "unity of brotherhood," must provide the "shock forces" to accomplish the "spiritual awakening" necessary to substitute "decency and reason and brotherhood for the rule of force in the government of man."

"On for an Isaiah or a Saint Paul to reawaken a sick world to its moral responsibilities," he declared.

Unless the church forces provide the spiritual awakening in this atomic age, the President continued, "we are headed for the disaster we would deserve."

The President said that "every possible resource of government would be used to reach our goal of 2,700,000 low-cost homes within the next two years," and added: "The spiritual welfare of our people of tomorrow is going to depend on the kind of home life which our nation has today."

Seeks Cooperation on Housing
"That is why it is so important that all churches throughout America cooperate in the national share-the-home effort. If each congregation of the 250,000 churches and synagogues in this country would open their spare rooms to only four veterans, one million veterans and their families could receive temporary shelter until new houses are available."

Asserting home must conform to "an over-riding standard," Mr. Truman declared: "To raise that standard should be, and is, the constant aim of your government and the underlying basis of its policies. It would make the effort so much easier if people and nations would apply some of the principles of social justice and ethical standards which have come down to us from Biblical times."

He said that questions which beset the country "in strikes and wages and working conditions" would be simpler "if men and women were willing to apply the principles of the golden rule."

Share the Food

The President called upon all Americans to prove their faith by doing their share "to save starving millions in Europe, and Asia and Africa."

"Share your food by eating less," he said, "and prevent millions from dying of starvation. Reduce your abundance so that others may have a crust of bread. In short, prove yourselves worthy of the liberty and dignity which you have preserved on this earth, by helping those less fortunate who have been starved by the dictators for so many long years and who still starve even in liberation."

Stowaway Mother Delays Sailing of Bride Ship

Le Havre, France, March 6 (AP)—Nearly 500 French and Belgian wives and children sailed for the United States today after the departure of their transport, the George W. Goethals, was delayed 20 minutes when the mother of one bride tried to stow away.

Army authorities finally persuaded Mme. Lulu Politzer of Paris that she could not make the trip. Mme. Politzer is the mother of Mrs. Josette Addison who is enroute to join her husband, former Warrant Officer Jack Addison, Alton, Pa.

Army authorities said the George W. Goethals would arrive in New York in less than two weeks.

Nation's Press Split Sharply On Churchill's Fulton Speech

(By The Associated Press)
Winston Churchill's Fulton, Mo., speech, calling for an Anglo-American alliance and accusing the Soviet Union of seeking "indefinite expansion" of its "power and doctrines," brought divergent editorial comment today from the nation's press.

The New York Times declared the former British prime minister came "with a message of such interest and importance to our country, to his, and to the world at large, that he converted his presence at Fulton into a historic event and in doing established a new bond between the West and the East, the heart of Britain and the many Westminsters from one shore of this land to the other."

"The fact that President Truman accompanied him on this trip and introduced him to his audience," the paper continued, "lends added significance to what he said."

The New York Herald Tribune editorialized that Churchill's address "seems quite plainly to mean, if it means anything, that Soviet Russia is today a menace and a shadow" over the western world comparable to the menace of Nazism a decade ago; that it can be met only by such a show of strength as Mr. Churchill once called for in vain against Germany."

Boston Globe— " * * * He (Churchill) invites the United States to become heir to the evils of a collapsing colonialism, and inevitably their defender, all the way from North Africa to the China Sea."

No Alliance Wanted
Atlanta, Ga., Constitution—"Mr. Churchill's speech is a virtual military alliance of this country and Britain against what he termed Russia's desire for 'indefinite expansion' of its 'power and doctrines.' The answer to that must be a definite 'no'."

Hartford, Conn., Courant—"The former prime minister's measured attack on international Communism and on Soviet Russia's 'indefinite expansion' coupled with his proposal for a virtual military alliance of this country and Britain against what he termed Russia's desire for 'indefinite expansion' of its 'power and doctrines.' The answer to that must be a definite 'no'."

St. Louis Globe-Democrat—"The 'fraternal association' for which Mr. Churchill pleads is as common sense as it is necessary. Coming as it does within a few days after declarations by Senator Vandenberg and Secretary of State Byrnes, both of whom called for candor and stiffened backbone in our dealings with Russia, the declaration of Fulton has added significance."

"Blinded Aristocrat"
Chicago Sun—"Winston Churchill at Fulton was lighting for his world. It is a world which no longer exists in reality. It cannot be reconstituted. To follow the standard raised by this great but blinded aristocrat would be to march to the world's most ghastly war. Let Mr. Truman's rejection of the poisonous doctrines declared by Mr. Churchill be prompt and emphatic."

Newark, N. J., Star-Ledger—"Winston Churchill's bold speech at Fulton, Mo., in the presence of President Truman was clearly not a Tory reflection upon the foreign policy of a British Labor government. On the contrary, Churchill was speaking as the best voice of all Britain, giving clarity, emphasis and fervor to the sentiments of the British government, in which he now plays the still important role of leader of the loyal opposition."

Philadelphia Inquirer—"There is 'substantial practicality' in Churchill's suggestion for setting up a strong American-British military alliance. At the moment, however, Britain is involved in a number of problems having a military aspect. The clearing up of Britain's more clamorous Empire difficulties, on the other hand, might set the stage for a vigorous American-British military partnership for world peace."

Hieswa Kin Encouraged After Hearing by Army
Washington, March 6 (AP)—Mrs. Anna Hieswa of Wallington, N. J., mother of P.F.C. Joseph E. Hieswa, Jr., under sentence of death in the slaying of two Japanese civilians, said yesterday after pleading for her son's life before Maj. Gen. Thomas H. Green, the Army judge advocate general, "He'll help us; I'm sure he will."

Mrs. Hieswa, the boy's father, and six relatives and friends made the trip to Washington yesterday to appeal for clemency for the 20-year-old soldier.

Dr. Stephen W. Lesko said that he had submitted evidence that the soldier suffered "considerable cerebral damage" during an accident while at play some years ago, an added that "in my opinion he should have been rejected for all military service."

No Comment

Seek Jobs for Vets
Rochester, N. Y., March 6 (AP)—Estimating that one of every six returned servicemen in New York State is unemployed, a United States Employment Service official said today the USES will appeal to veteran's organizations for aid in placing the men. Joseph B. O'Connor, New York city, regional USES director, declared at a conference of area USES managers and directors that "veterans' groups would be asked to emphasize what the former servicemen can do and to help the USES 'to find the right job for the right man.'"

Strike Uprising
Newark, N. J., March 6 (AP)—Two houses occupied by non-striking employees of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation's Bloomfield plant were stoned early today in Bloomfield. No injuries were reported. Around the plant itself, however, quiet reigned as the strikers moved to Newark where a trial of five union officials on contempt charges growing out of the strike was to begin in Chancery Court.

Roosevelt Estate To Be National Site April 12

Washington, March 6 (AP)—The Hyde Park home of Franklin D. Roosevelt will be formally dedicated as a national historic site April 12, the first anniversary of the former president's death.

Announcing this today, Acting Secretary of the Interior Oscar L. Chapman said President Truman will attend the ceremonies and deliver the principal address. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the late president, also will speak.

J. A. Krug, soon to become Secretary of Interior, will accept the gift for the government.

The ceremonies (2:30 p. m.) will be held on the veranda of the home. The announcement said "several hundred persons from all over the world" would be invited guests, and that thousands of the general public are expected to attend.

The site comprises 32.23 acres and includes the rose garden in which President Roosevelt was buried April 15, 1945. Mr. Roosevelt reserved for Mrs. Roosevelt and their children a life interest in the estate, but all waived their rights, giving the government immediate possession.

He mentioned his "strong admiration and regard" for the "valiant Russian people and for war-time comrade Marshall Stalin," then asserted:

"It is my duty, however, to place before you certain facts about the present position in Europe." There, he said, an "iron curtain" has descended from the Baltic to the Adriatic.

Declaring that "this is certainly not the liberated Europe we fought to build up," Churchill cited as examples of Russian activity: Warsaw, Berlin, Prague, Vienna, Budapest, Belgrade, Bucharest and Sofia.

Increasing measure of control from Moscow, the Russian-dominated Polish government encouraged to make "enormous and wrongful inroads upon Germany," an attempt to build up a "quasi-Communist" in Germany and Communist influences at work in Italy and France. He mentioned the anxiety over the Far East especially in Manchuria, and said Turkey and Persia are "profoundly alarmed" by Moscow demands.

Saying he did not believe the Soviet Union wants war, Churchill added, however, that prevention of another great war is possible only by "reaching now, in 1946, a good understanding on all points with Russia under the general authority of the United Nations Organization."

Britain's wartime leader held that due to the uncertain world situation it would be "wrong and imprudent" for the United States and Canada to give the secret of the atomic bomb to the U.N.O. while that agency "is still in its infancy."

Moscow Papers Ignore Speech
Moscow, March 6 (AP)—Moscow morning newspapers made no mention today of Winston Churchill's address yesterday at Fulton, Mo., nor of the notes which the United States government addressed to Russia on problems involving Iran and Manchuria.

Also ignored were the remarks which A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, made last evening in the British House of Commons concerning relations with Russia.

Receiving prominence were a proclamation of international women's day, an article on oil and another on agriculture, and a speech by the Polish premier.

Mixed Reaction in House of Commons
London, March 6 (AP)—Parliamentary circles predicted today that Winston Churchill's speech in Fulton, Mo., might have repercussions in the House of Commons, where some members were said to be curious as to whether the government had prior knowledge of his remarks.

The parliamentary correspondent of the British Press Association said that Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin probably would be interrogated in Commons concerning the speech, in which the former prime minister expressed anxiety over Russia's intentions and urged a virtual British-American military alliance.

The correspondent said that Churchill's remarks had caused "a good deal of interest and some surprise" in the House, and declared the address had been criticized by some members "on the ground that it was very unhelpful to the United Nations Organization."

Ickes Testimony Halted By Absence of Data

Washington, March 6 (AP)—Harold L. Ickes told the Senate Naval Committee today his memoranda on conversations with Edwin W. Pauley are locked up in a bank vault and could not be produced immediately for examination.

The committee had ordered Ickes to produce the memoranda which he testified previously he made three or four days after Pauley offered him "the rawest position ever made to me."

3. That leaves have been "canceled."

The War Department stated that all such rumors are completely unfounded.

Ration Board Waits
When 1,384 drums of gasoline arrived in Puntas Arenas, Chile, recently, it was found a severe shortage for commercial cars and trucks, but none of it was allotted to private vehicles. The ration board pointed out that it had been promised gasoline ship-ments many times and this is the only one which has arrived.

"Seeing is believing" is now the board's motto and private owners will get gasoline only when an adequate supply is actually on hand.

Warship Has Plastics
Plastics are finding large use for the first time in a battleship. On the 65,000 ton battleship Vanguard now being outfitted at Clydebank, Glasgow, reports, brown-colored fireplaces contrast with scratch-proof tables of shining green. Plastic leather, on which smoldering cigarettes have no effect, blends with tubular framed chairs with plastic upholstery. There is non-skid tiling, sawdust and cement carpets mess decks to deaden vibration.

President Seeks Religious Aid To Help the World

address an appeal for food sharing "to save the starving millions in Europe and Asia and Africa."

He said America's churches—Protestant and Catholic and the Jewish synagogue—bound together in the American "unity of brotherhood," must provide the "shock forces" to accomplish the "spiritual awakening" necessary to substitute "decency and reason and brotherhood for the rule of force in the government of man."

"Oh for an Isaiah or a Saint Paul to reawaken a sick world to its moral responsibilities," he declared.

Unless the church forces provide the spiritual awakening in this atomic age, the President continued, "we are headed for the disaster we would deserve."

The President said that "every possible resource of government would be used to reach our goal of 2,700,000 low-cost homes within the next two years," and added:

"The spiritual welfare of our people of tomorrow is going to depend on the kind of home life which our nation has today."

Seeks Cooperation on Housing
"That is why it is so important that all churches throughout America cooperate in the national share-the-home effort. If each congregation of the 250,000 churches and synagogues in this country would open their spare rooms to only four veterans, one million veterans and their families could receive temporary shelter until new houses are available."

Asserting home must conform to "an ever-rising standard," Mr. Truman declared:

"To raise that standard should be, and is, the constant aim of your government and the underlying basis of its policies. It would make the effort so much easier if people and nations would apply the principles of social justice and ethical standards which have come down to us from Biblical times."

He said that questions which beset the country "in strikes and wages and working conditions" would be simpler "if men and women were willing to apply the principles of the golden rule."

Share the Food
The President called upon all Americans to prove their faith by doing their share "to save starving millions in Europe, and Asia and Africa."

"Share your food by eating less," he said, "and prevent millions from dying of starvation. Reduce your abundance so that others may have a crust of bread. In short, prove yourselves worthy of the liberty and dignity which you have preserved on this earth, by helping those less fortunate who have been starved by the dictators for so many long years and who still starve even in liberation."

Stowaway Mother Delays Sailing of Bride Ship

Le Havre, France, March 6 (AP)—Nearly 500 French and Belgian wives and children sailed for the United States today after the departure of their transport, the George W. Goethals, was delayed 20 minutes when the mother of one bride tried to stow away.

Army authorities finally persuaded Mme. Lulu Politzer of Paris that she could not make the trip. Mme. Politzer is the mother of Mrs. Josephette Addelson who is enroute to join her husband, former Warrant Officer Jack Addelson, Alton, Pa.

Army authorities said the George W. Goethals would arrive in New York in less than two weeks.

Municipal Pari-Mutuel Bill Before Legislature

Albany, N. Y., March 6 (AP)—Legislation authorizing New York city to impose a 5 per cent tax on pari-mutuel play was introduced today.

The measure is the first of several planned to permit Mayor William O'Dwyer to levy new taxes of approximately $100,000,000 a year for the next four years.

Introduced in the Assembly by Irwin Davidson, New York city Democrat, and in the Senate by John D. Bennett, Nassau Republican, the bill empowers New York city to levy a 5 per cent tax on pari-mutuel betting at Jamaica, Belmont Park and other racetracks in addition to the state tax now in force.

O'Dwyer estimates the yield from this new source would be approximately $10,000,000 a year.

Ask Food Subsidies
Washington, March 6 (AP)—The administration asked Congress today for $2,051,000,000 to continue government subsidies on food and other materials, during the fiscal year beginning July 1. The proposal was made by James F. Brownlee, deputy director, Economic Stabilizer Chester Bowles, to the House Banking Committee. He said halting the subsidy program at the end of current fiscal year would result in an eight per cent rise in food costs, and a 3½ per cent jump in the overall cost of living.

VETS GETS LEGAL AID IN ALBANY

Albany veterans may get advice on filing legal claims free of charge at the Red Cross chapter house, 365 State street, on Tuesday and Friday nights.

Charles J. Tobin, Jr., and Robert L. Novak, attorneys, and ex-servicemen, have volunteered their services as legal consultants for the Albany Red Cross veterans counseling program.

VETS MAY GET PAID FOR UNUSED LEAVE

Enlisted men who lost furloughs while overseas or in the armed forces may be compensated, state may yet be compensated, including discharged subcommittee reported that it had recently decided in favor of legislation which would place enlisted men on the same footing as officers, who are paid for unused leave upon return to civilian life.

Entitled to 30 days furlough annually, a great number of enlisted personnel lost up to 120 days while serving overseas since the enemy didn't go for "seventh-inning stretches." How "seventh-inning stretches" per- ever, Army regulations permit officers' leave to accrue up to 120 days and many of them have rolled up hunks of money, running into four figures on discharge day.

Estimates of the cost of the bill, committee members said, range as high as six billion dollars. The Sikes bill makes the pay retroactive to September 8, 1939.

AMVET CHAPTER MAY BE SET UP IN SCHENECTADY

While members of the recently formed American Veterans committee in Albany map plans this week for a mass meeting of all World War II veterans, a group of Schenectady vets will petition the national headquarters for a charter.

An open meeting of the recently launched Albany chapter of the AMC was held last week in the Joseph Henry Memorial. They heard the Rev. Reginald M. Field, pastor of Trinity Episcopal church, and veteran of both world wars, advocate the provision of better homes in Albany for the poor—a system of housing comparable to the system of education.

Schenectady petitioners for an AMC charter were guests at the meeting.

He says:

"My, it's wonderful to be home, and were we lucky! Margaret's parents and my folks have long been Standard customers and they furnished our home there for us—all we had to buy was a kitchen cabinet—and what do you know—Standard had one with a real porcelain top—so now we're all set. I guess that makes us 'second generation' Standard customers—or does it?"

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 6 (AP)—

Outfielder Johnny Rizzo and catcher Cliff Dapper have signed their Brooklyn Dodger contracts. With Luis Oimo counted out, Rizzo stands a good chance of making the outfield since he is the only experienced right-handed batter in the club's picket line squad.

In The Pocket

Two of Kingston's most carefully guarded bowling secrets are the annual Central Hudson valley tournament and visitations of local female keglers to out-of-the-city tournaments.

The Central Hudson competition each year is shrouded in a secrecy that makes the Army's famed "Manhattan Project" pale in comparison. And that deal only with something as trivial as the atomic bomb secrets. The 1946 competition was conducted at 9 a. m. behind barred doors.

When Kingston women make their annual trek to sweepstakes and tournaments, they fold their tents and steal off into the night in a manner that would put the most furtive Arab to shame. Army experts could get a lesson in military security from these gals.

News of the impending Central Hudson tournament annually is spread through the valley by masked night riders who are extremely allergic to the press. Even in the heyday of such stalwart pundits as Walter May and Tom Morrissey, the competition was waged under strict censorship.

We learned of Rose Schatzel's 589 quite by accident. We always get around to the Central Hudson series scores. Bill Green of Newburgh, and the Hill City Keglers, cleaned up in this event. The desire of some keglers to shroud their activities in mystery and secrecy is understandable. But for such stalwarts as the Central Hudson and Rose Schatzel, tsk, tsk! Your public is crying for you!

More and more people are switching to the theory that reports 9 and 10 alleys are tough are strictly rumor. Let's reserve judgment until the next match. . . . We have achieved the millennium! . . . $7.50 from a banker and no collateral. . . . We have Ernie Leckie's money for two tickets to the Sparadito-Ferraro duel, but he hasn't received the tickets yet. . . . Emil Jordan, of Chez Enile, a pretty ardent bowling booster, came through with an order for eight seats for all three blocks.

Around the Nation's Wheels—Jim Catel, a bowler in Salt Lake, Marie, Mich., set a world record when he converted the 3-7-10 three times in three successive frames. . . . Nobody should get it that often. . . . Nelson Burton, St. Louis bowling star, who is respected by all of the nation's tenpin stars, recently rolled a 91 game in the St. Louis Classic League. . . . Now, don't feel so badly, do you?

Flotsam and Jetsam
Larry Weishaupt continues to pound alleys 15 and 16 like he owns them. Against Liberty he poured in a 289 game and 663 series, and came back the following night with a huge 640. . . . Following the hectic city tournament, scoring in the local circuit tailed off, on the basis of early reports. . . . Ben Toffel and Jim Abbott shot 627 and 610 respectively in the Electro-Look.

Kingston Invited To Poughkeepsie Baseball Meeting

Diamond Moguls Will Attempt to Form New 2-League Federation for Hudson Valley

A special meeting of baseball moguls of the Hudson Valley area will be held at the Poughkeepsie Y.M.C.A. next Wednesday, March 13, in an effort to form a two-league baseball federation, Weldon "Mac" McCluskey announced today.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 o'clock. According to McCluskey, who is a former physical director at the local "Y," invitations will be sent to baseball representatives in Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh, Middletown, Beacon, Port Jervis, Saugerties, Hudson and Windingdale (Harlem Valley State Hospital) for affiliation with a Class A league.

Such teams as Wappingers Falls, Arlington, Rhinebeck, Hyde Park, Poughkeepsie, P. A. W. I. N. G., Hopewell, Millerton, Millbrook, Highland, Dover Plains and Pine Plains will be invited to the session as Class B league members.

"These circuits," said McCluskey, "will be affiliated with the National Semi-Pro Baseball Congress."

Under plans already outlined by the Poughkeepsie commissioner, the top club in both loops would engage in a three-game series for the association championship. The official title of the federation would be the Mid-Hudson Baseball Association. Trophies will be awarded to clubs leading both circuits with a federation championship trophy going to the club winning the final series.

Four Clubs Accept Cage Invitations For Local Tourney

Kerhonkson Farmers One of First Teams in Gold Medal Play; Referees Named

Four clubs have accepted invitations to the Gold Medal basketball tournament which is scheduled to get under way at the local Y.M.C.A. boards Thursday, March 14. Bert Streeter announced this morning.

The teams in the fold already are the West Point Post five, Margaretville American Legion, Stockport Firemen and the highly-touted Kerhonkson Farmers. All of the outfits are strong, Streeter said, but special emphasis must be placed on Abe Widitz's Farmers from Kerhonkson who at this time have rung up 12 straight victories.

Others who are expected to join the tournament play soon include the Wallkill A. C., Port Jervis American Legion, Roxbury American Legion and the Green Haven Soldiers of the Poughkeepsie "Y" loop.

Yesterday Lou Schafer, physical director at the "Y," announced that Jim Freleigh, Chet Fox, "Bing" Van Etten and Schafer himself would officiate at the tournament games.

Firemen Vanquish Accord, 21 to 17

The High Falls Firemen scored a double victory at their gym Saturday night of last week when they scored wins over Port Ewen and the Accord Farmers.

In the preliminary feature the juniors went on a scoring spree and wound up on the long end of a 55 to 17 count over Port Ewen. O'Shea was the leading scorer in this tilt with his 24 markers. Short had eight for the losers.

It was a different story in the second clash, however, as both clubs settled down to do battle in a low offensive clash. Accord hammered out a 10-6 lead in the first two periods of play but some spectacular last half play by High Falls turned the tide. Williams found the hoop for 10 counters for High Falls while Percoco gathered in six for Accord.

Bars Armed Forces
Defrocks Emperor

Tokyo, March 6 (AP) — A new Japanese constitution renouncing war for all time and prohibiting the maintenance of armed forces was announced today.

General MacArthur, reporting that it was drafted with his full approval, emphasized that "the foremost of its provisions x x x that abolishing was as a sovereign right of the nation x x x renders (Japan's) future security and very survival subject to the good faith and justice of the peace loving peoples of the world."

Hirohito, who will be reduced from "a sacred and inviolable" Emperor to a symbol of state with very limited formal functions, issued a special rescript stating: "It is my desire that the constitution of our empire be revised drastically upon the basis of the general will of the people and the principle of respect for the fundamental human rights."

(MacArthur's approval of the constitution, maintaining the Mikado as a symbol of state, presumably ends any possibility of his being arrested as a war crimes suspect.)

Emperor Defrocked

The proposed constitution vests sovereignty in the people and strips all governmental powers from the Emperor.

It replaces the powerful House of Peers with a House of Councilors who must be elected by all of the people and who may be overruled by the House of Representatives on some major issues.

It enumerates a long list of revolutionary individual rights for the Japanese.

It renounces "war as a sovereign right of the nation and the threat or use of force as a means of settling disputes."

Wataru Narahashi, chief cabinet secretary, told a press conference the constitution "is one of the drastic steps the government must take." And he "hopes it will be a bloodless revolution."

The new constitution also limits the Emperor's state functions to such specified acts as proclaiming elections and convoking the Diet and says these functions may be delegated as provided by law.

It specifically states that maintenance of land, sea and air forces "as well as other war potential will never be authorized. The right of belligerency of the state will not be recognized."

KOLTS ELECTRIC SUPPLY CO.

Below Low Cost — Above High Quality

Albany, N. Y., March 6 (AP) — Three clashing bonus proposals whipped up fresh legislative controversy today over cash payments to New York state's 1,600,000 World War II veterans.

One measure, however, seeking a constitutional amendment to authorize a $400,000,000 debt for bonuses ranging from $50 to $250, was expected to win the legislature's approval.

Drafted by the joint bi-partisan legislative veterans committee, the amendment was scheduled for introduction today.

Differing with the committee's plan, two other bonus proposals were sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Labor Party.

The V. F. W.'s bill call for maximum payments of $450 per veteran out of a $300,000,000 fund. Bonuses equaling federal mustering-out pay—up to $300—to be paid immediately by a $300,000,000 grant from the state's surplus were demanded by the A. L. P.

Under the bi-partisan committee's proposal, the amendment if passed by the Legislature, this year and next, would go to the people in a referendum in 1947. If then approved, the 1948 Legislature would enact enabling laws to pay the bonus.

Headed by Senator William F. Condon, Yonkers Republican, the committee proposed an amendment to grant bonuses as follows:

$50 for veterans who served less than 60 days within the continental United States.

$150 for those who served more than 60 days in the country.

$250 for those who served outside the nation at any time.

To be eligible, a veteran must have served between December 7, 1941, and September 2, 1945; have been a resident of New York state for six months immediately before beginning active duty, and be a resident at the time of bonus payment.

Next of kin of New York state servicemen who died while in the armed forces during the war would receive $250. Next of kin of those who died after being discharged would get the amount the serviceman would have received had he lived.

The amendment would apply to men and women in Army, Navy, Marines and Coast Guard.

Penicillin Is New Trench Mouth Cure

New York, March 6 (AP) — The U. S. Naval Medical Bulletin announces a new use of penicillin, to cure trench mouth, and to cure it quickly. In 400 cases tried there has not been one failure.

The penicillin is given like candy, in lozenges, which are allowed to dissolve in the mouth. The trench mouth victim keeps a lozenge, one after another, in his mouth all day and takes one if he wakes up at night.

Trench mouth is one of the troublesome diseases of war and is widespread in peace.
